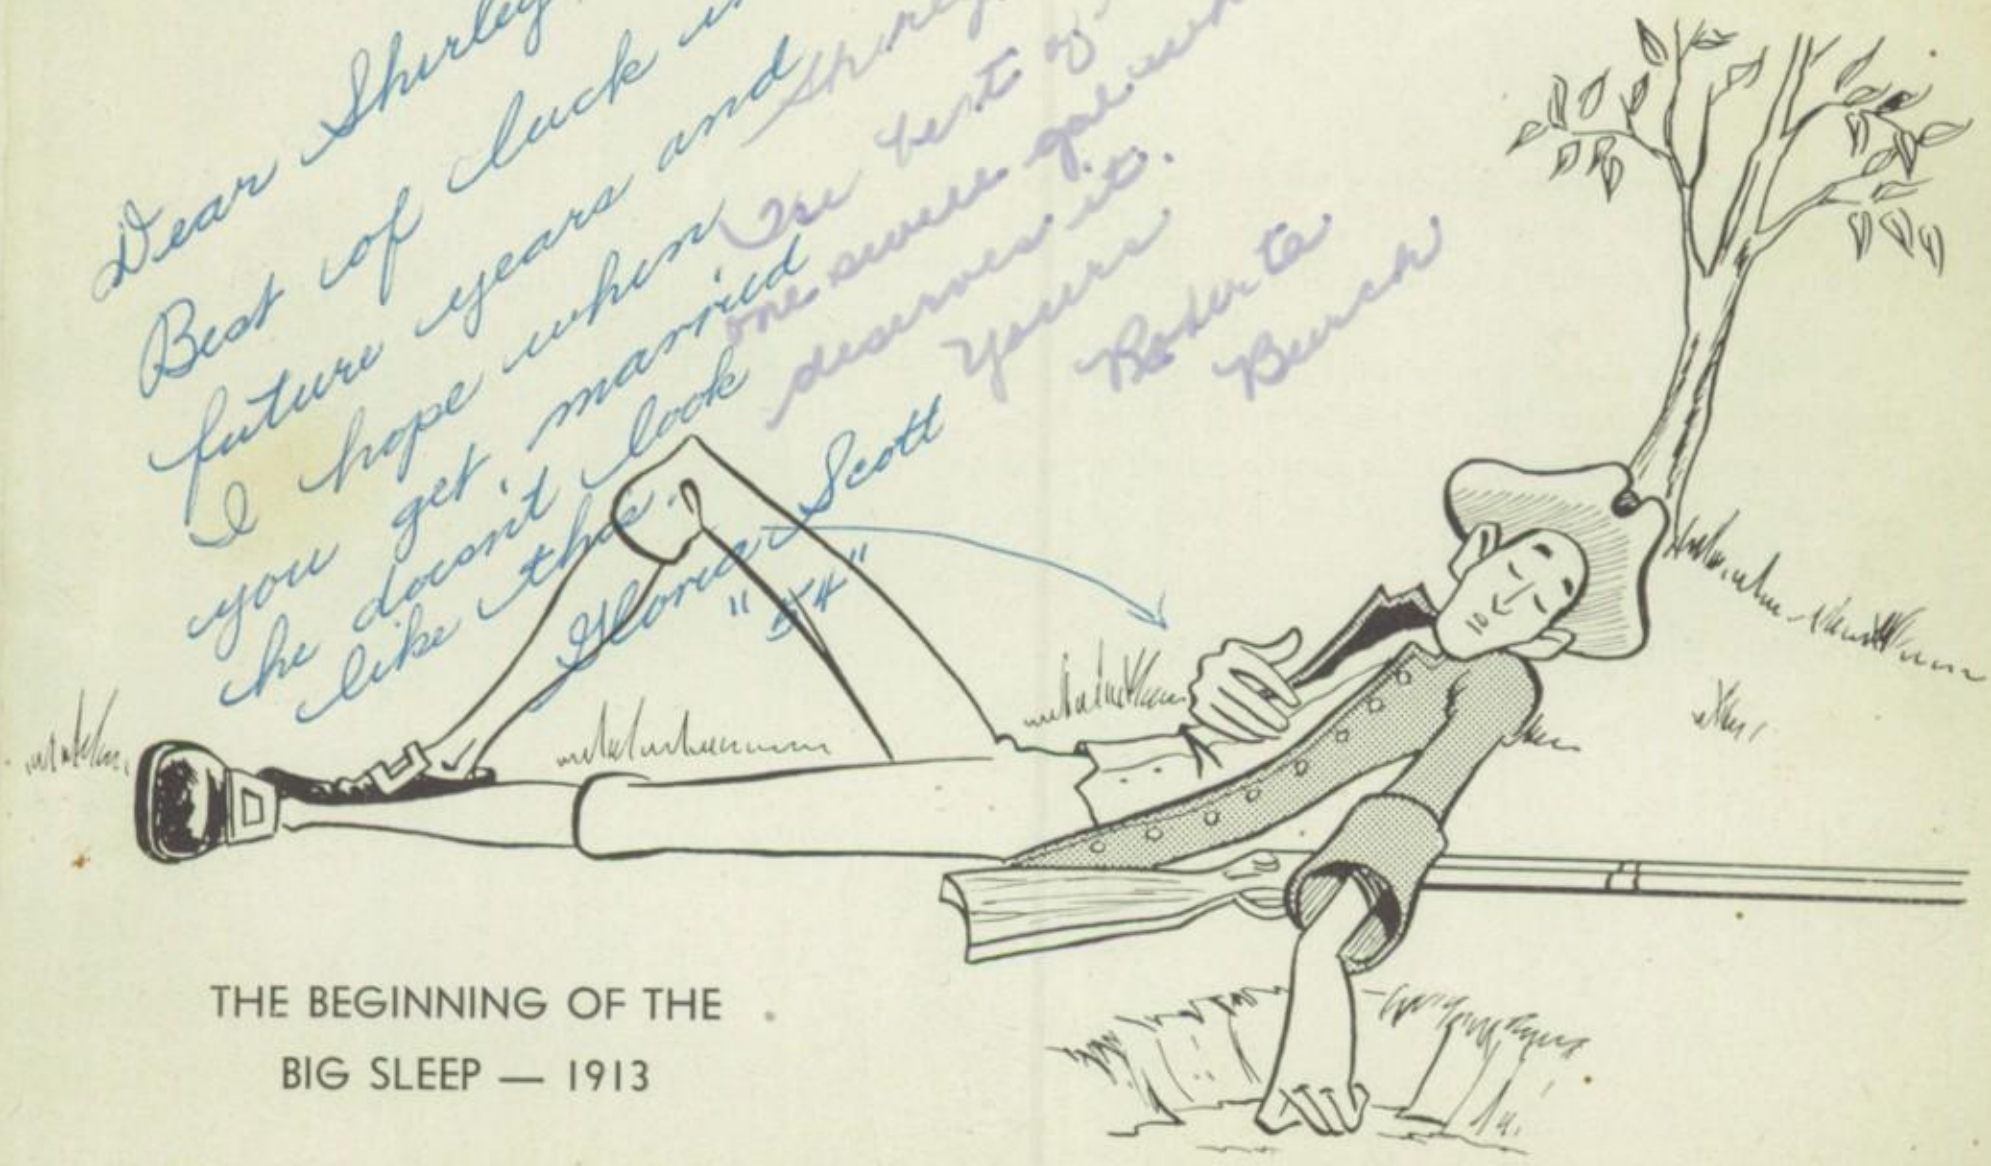
The 1953 Koala

Published by the Annual Staff of Riverside Polytechnic High School, Riverside, California. This book records a strange tale of Rip Van Winkle who, in his youth, lay down beneath a tiny orange tree for 40 winks . . . which lasted 40 years! This is the account of Rip's journey in today's world, humorous, enlightening, and exciting.

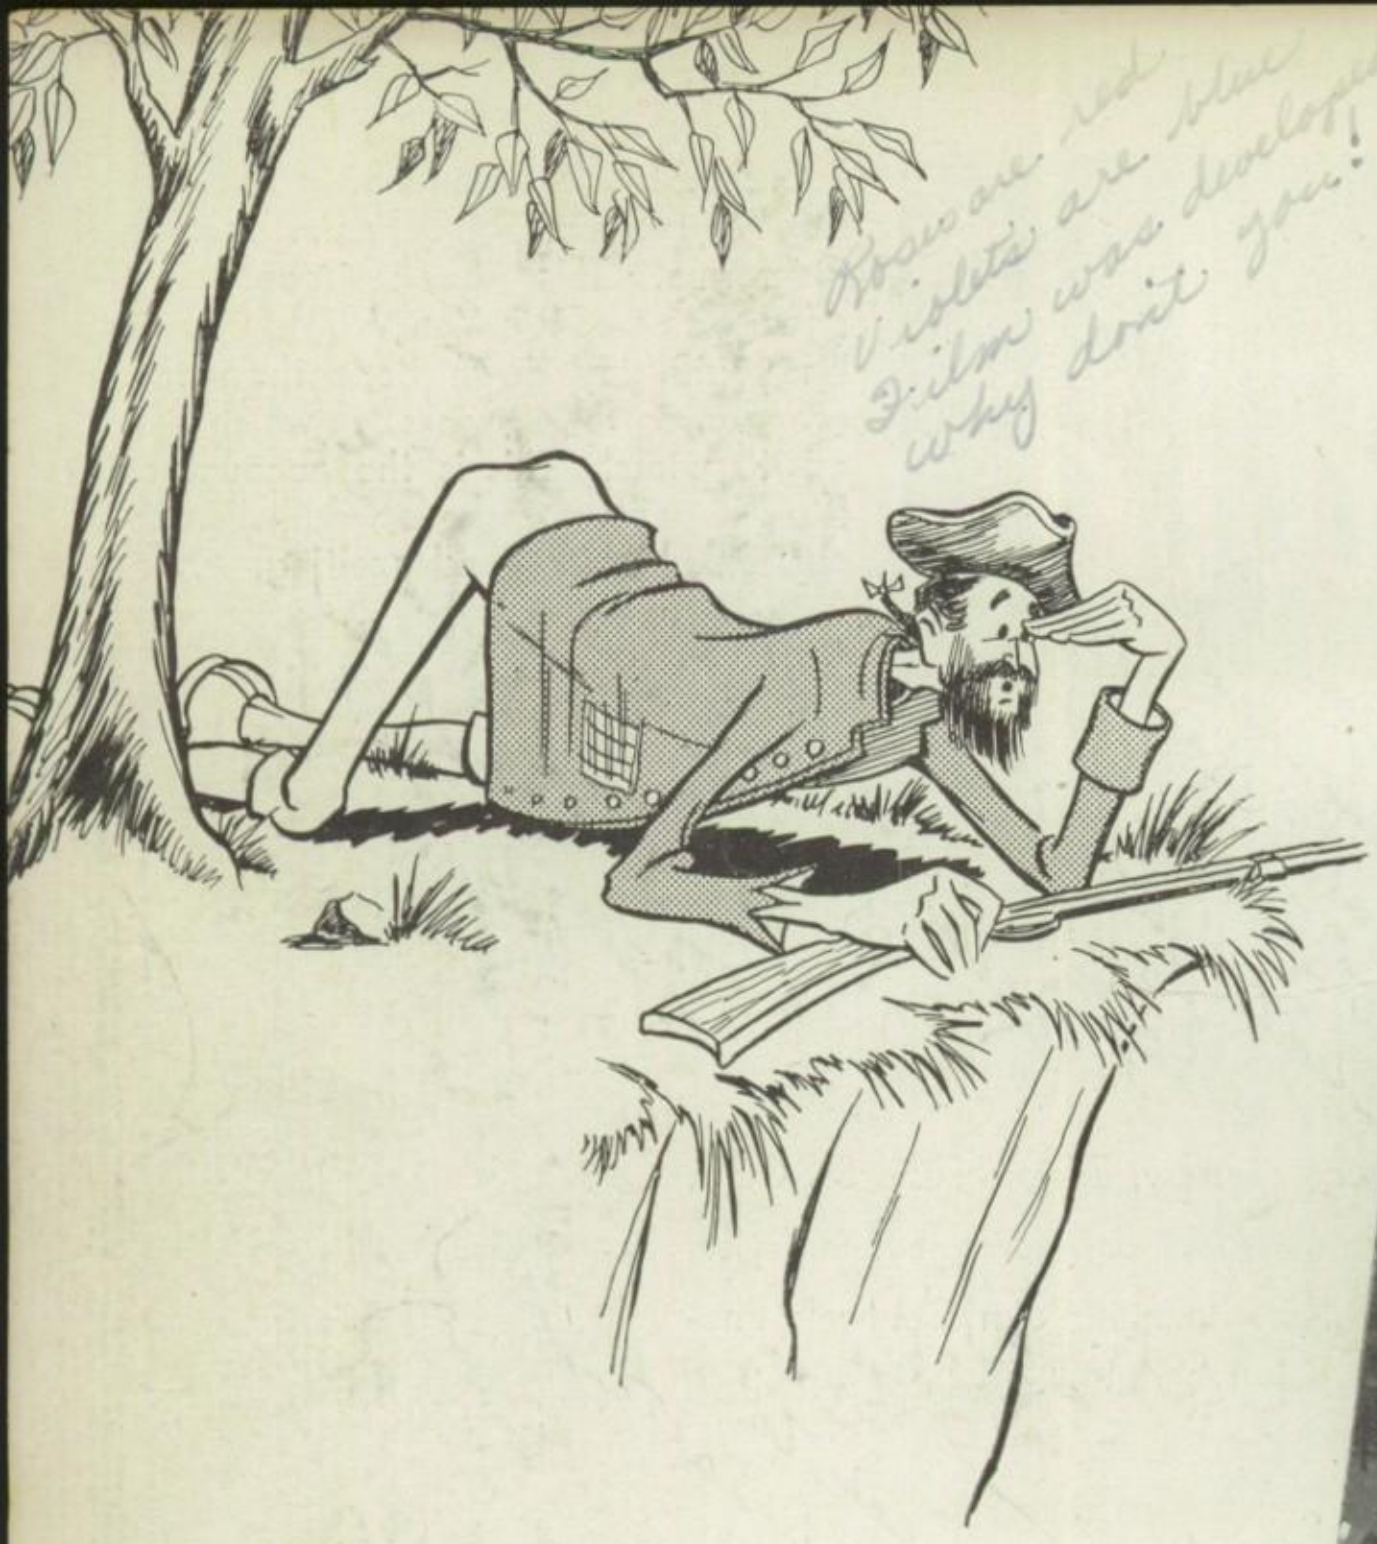
Turn the page and see . . . . . .

Joyce Bigelow, Editor; Susie St. Clair, Associate Editor; Jerra Lynne Tyler, Business Manager; Jim Caldwell, Photographer; W. Kelly Adams, Advisor.



THE BEGINNING OF THE BIG SLEEP — 1913

Poly's



With sleep-filled eyes Rip crawled to the edge of the arroyo. After all the years he had been asleep, he just couldn't believe what he saw.

"So THIS is Poly High today!" he gasped in amazement. "Egad, how it has grown! Nevertheless, it probably doesn't offer anything new, and I should experience no trouble in fitting into its school life."

Big words, Rip! Let's see how you DO fit into —

Life Today

Best of luck to a real great kid.
Hope you have a prosperous future.
Betty Gleason

According to a story that most of us know (or should know!), there was once a young man named Rip Van Winkle who went to sleep one day — and didn't wake up until twenty years later! (This is symbolic of how some Poly students spend their time in class!)

But the Rip of this KOALA far outdid the earlier Van Winkle. Our Rip went to Poly (and to sleep!) not merely twenty, but rather forty, years ago—and now we find that he has awakened in this year of 1953.

It is not surprising, then, that these buildings and surroundings so familiar to us are nearly all new to Rip after his long snooze. Back in his day, Poly was composed of three main structures: the present Science and Classics buildings; and a shop building no longer in existence, having been replaced by newer shops "down the hill". Work was begun on other buildings about ten years with its new buildings,

different views,

after Rip dozed off; but the modern lines of the Administration Building have the old boy completely befuddled!

And another fact has Rip staggering in amazement: There are "women" on the campus! Not so in his day! It was not until September, 1924, that the girls left their own school on Ninth Street and started attending the present campus. Rip "never had it so good", to steal a phrase.

The carvings made by love-sick Rip on the trees when they were young have disappeared with the passing of the years.

Most of the faces are new to Rip but now and then he catches a glimpse of someone somehow familiar to him — perhaps a descendant of one of his old schoolmates. Naturally it is no wonder that Rip has upon him the nostalgic urge to visit again the campus that once was so familiar to him and see for himself the many changes that have developed over the passing years. Thus it is that, with the help of this book, we find him floundering through the maze of Poly's halls as he awkwardly blunders from one department or activity to another.

Well Shirley you finally made it. Hope you find happiness now that you broke with Sal once a pal

Gasper Diaz

Dear Shirley I hope you have lots of love in the years to come. I'll always love you If you give me a chance

The Studious....

"What ho! 'Tis a classroom, no doubt engaged in learning their A B C's. I think I'll enter and show them how I shine in the art of learning."

..Set!

Gadzooks! 'Twas females I saw! — and I swear an ankle, a knee, and shoulders were all in evidence! To the stocks with them! 'Tis a shameful sight, immodest. Well — er- ah-h — Not so bad after all! Me for more of these — classes

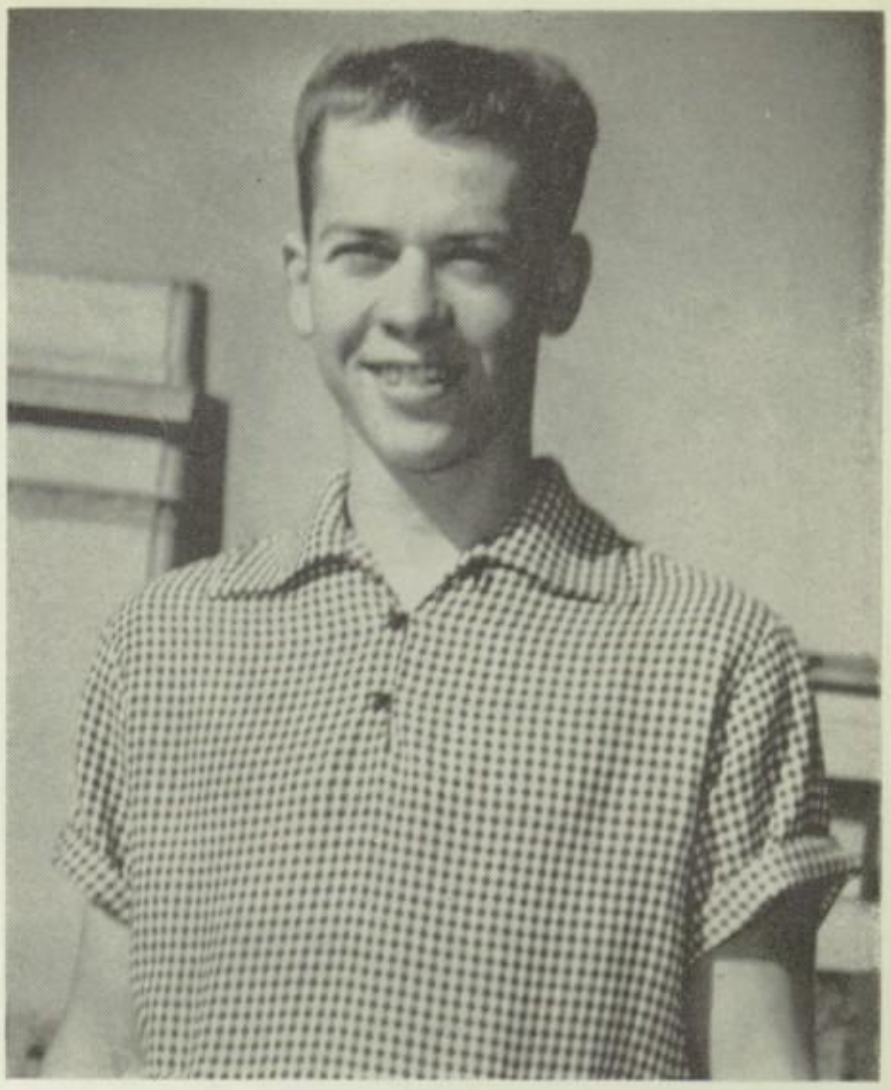
With the earth-shaking tap of the gavel, A.S.B. President Jack Coffin called the commission meetings to order. Then the business was brought up and the heated discussion began, but from every discussion another step was made for the good of the students. But how could Poly miss with a president like Jack to handle the gavel?



Even student government

Where bedlam reigned there could be found the commission in another of its famous gatherings. Here they are shelling out that hard-earned cash for tickets to that great A.S.B. Valentine Dance, which, incidentally, they sponsored. They are: Ted Beld, Senior Yell Leader; Patty Huber, Commissioner of Entertainmnt; Dean Determan, Current Publications; Claudia Sedgwick, Commissioner of Girls' Welfare; Richard Hendry, Vice-President; Mr. James, Advisor; Marnee Mae Tyler, Commissioner of Records; Jack Kennedy, Commissioner of Boys' Welfare; Dennis Huber, Sophomore Representative; Bill DeWolfe, Commissioner of Finance; Jack Coffin, President; Joyce Bigelow, Literary Activities.

"O. K. Come to order!" good-natured Richard Hendry "calmly" tells the "House". As student body vice-president Richard was in charge of the House of Advisory where every week he had to let loose with the gavel and silence those ever-working vocal cords.

was new to Rip...

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! The House of Advisory is now in session! The "House" is where all the problems of the students appear, whether it's the cutting down of the weeds by the parking lot or a new idea for a sulphur bomb to get rid of the bees by the Classics Building. Row 1: Abbott, Shannon. Alexander, Piliterri, Wood, J. Voronaef, Allen. Heath, Pagliuso, Edmonds, Fox, Bordwell, Braly, Hendry. Row 2: Krinard, J. Swanson, B. Baker, D. Voronaef, J. Baker, Kay, M. Pushing or pulling, the Ort officers and advisors enthusiastically guided the Senior class through ,a successful year. Left to right: S. Harris, Girls' Athletic Chairman; N. Mathis, Secretary; F. Farr, Debate Chairman; T. Jones, Boys' Athletic Chairman; Mrs. Rush, Advisor; Mr. Raymer, Advisor; Mr. Cooper, Advisor; Miss Shulze, Advisor; D. Weeks, Vice President; J. Coppo, Treasurer; G. Wood, President; P. Cooper, Social Chairman.

SENIORS dreamed of

Arriving in a somewhat perplexed state, the "Orts" had an obscure beginning; but as time went on they showed more and more promise of becoming a typical Poly class. Upon attaining the title of juniors they illustrated more evidence of their future greatness by presenting the hilarious play "Sight Unseen." They furthered this impression by conducting a trip to the mysterious Orient for an "Oriental Interlude," a colossal Prom.

On and on their fame grew as they gave the audience tons of laughs from their Senior play "Tons of Money". The usually mild California winter was interrupted by the cold setting of "Winter Fantasy," their senior ball. Near the end of the year oddly-dressed characters wandered around the campus on the annual Senior Slop Day.

Another stupendous success was the Senior Banquet where the will was read, futures were predicted, and the KOALAS were issued.

And at last came the day when they moved in slow cadence onto the field, listened to the speaker who, as adults always seem to do, gave them advice. Then their names were called, and the magic moment came when they received their diplomas. Now they were ready to go out and take the storm. But as they climbed the ladder of success, they would always look back and remember those wonderful days, gone all too soon, at Poly High.

The enthusiastic Junior class officers, Jeanie Parlette, Vice President; Carolyn McCulloch, Social Chairman; Joanne Moise, Secretary; Bob Griffin, President, insisted on flying their kite so high that they could be supressed only by the might of their advisors, Mr. Bush, Mrs. Wolf, and Mr. Probst. Absent when the picture was taken were Miss McMartin, advisor; and Richard Hughes, Treasurer.

"Does anyone wont to buy a candy bar?" Please!" So says Sally Herrera as she hopefully awaits an answer to her question. The Junior Class sold refreshments at all the games to raise money for the Prom.

learned the ropes

The Juniors were lively and their spirits were likely to explode any time, as, led by the Pom-Pom girls, they actively supported the teams. Here are: J. McCarthy, Kris Koala, T. Beld, E. Johnson, B. Greenlee, M. Spitznaugle, A. White.

Liveliest of the lowly Flupees were these vivacious sophs, cheering their fellow classmates on to greater glory. They are Sylvia Barr, Marsha Einzig, Judy Baker.

Another "small, sad soph", Ross Dozier, is sent on his way with directions for getting to room 101 "for sure" from "big" Junior Bill Noble.

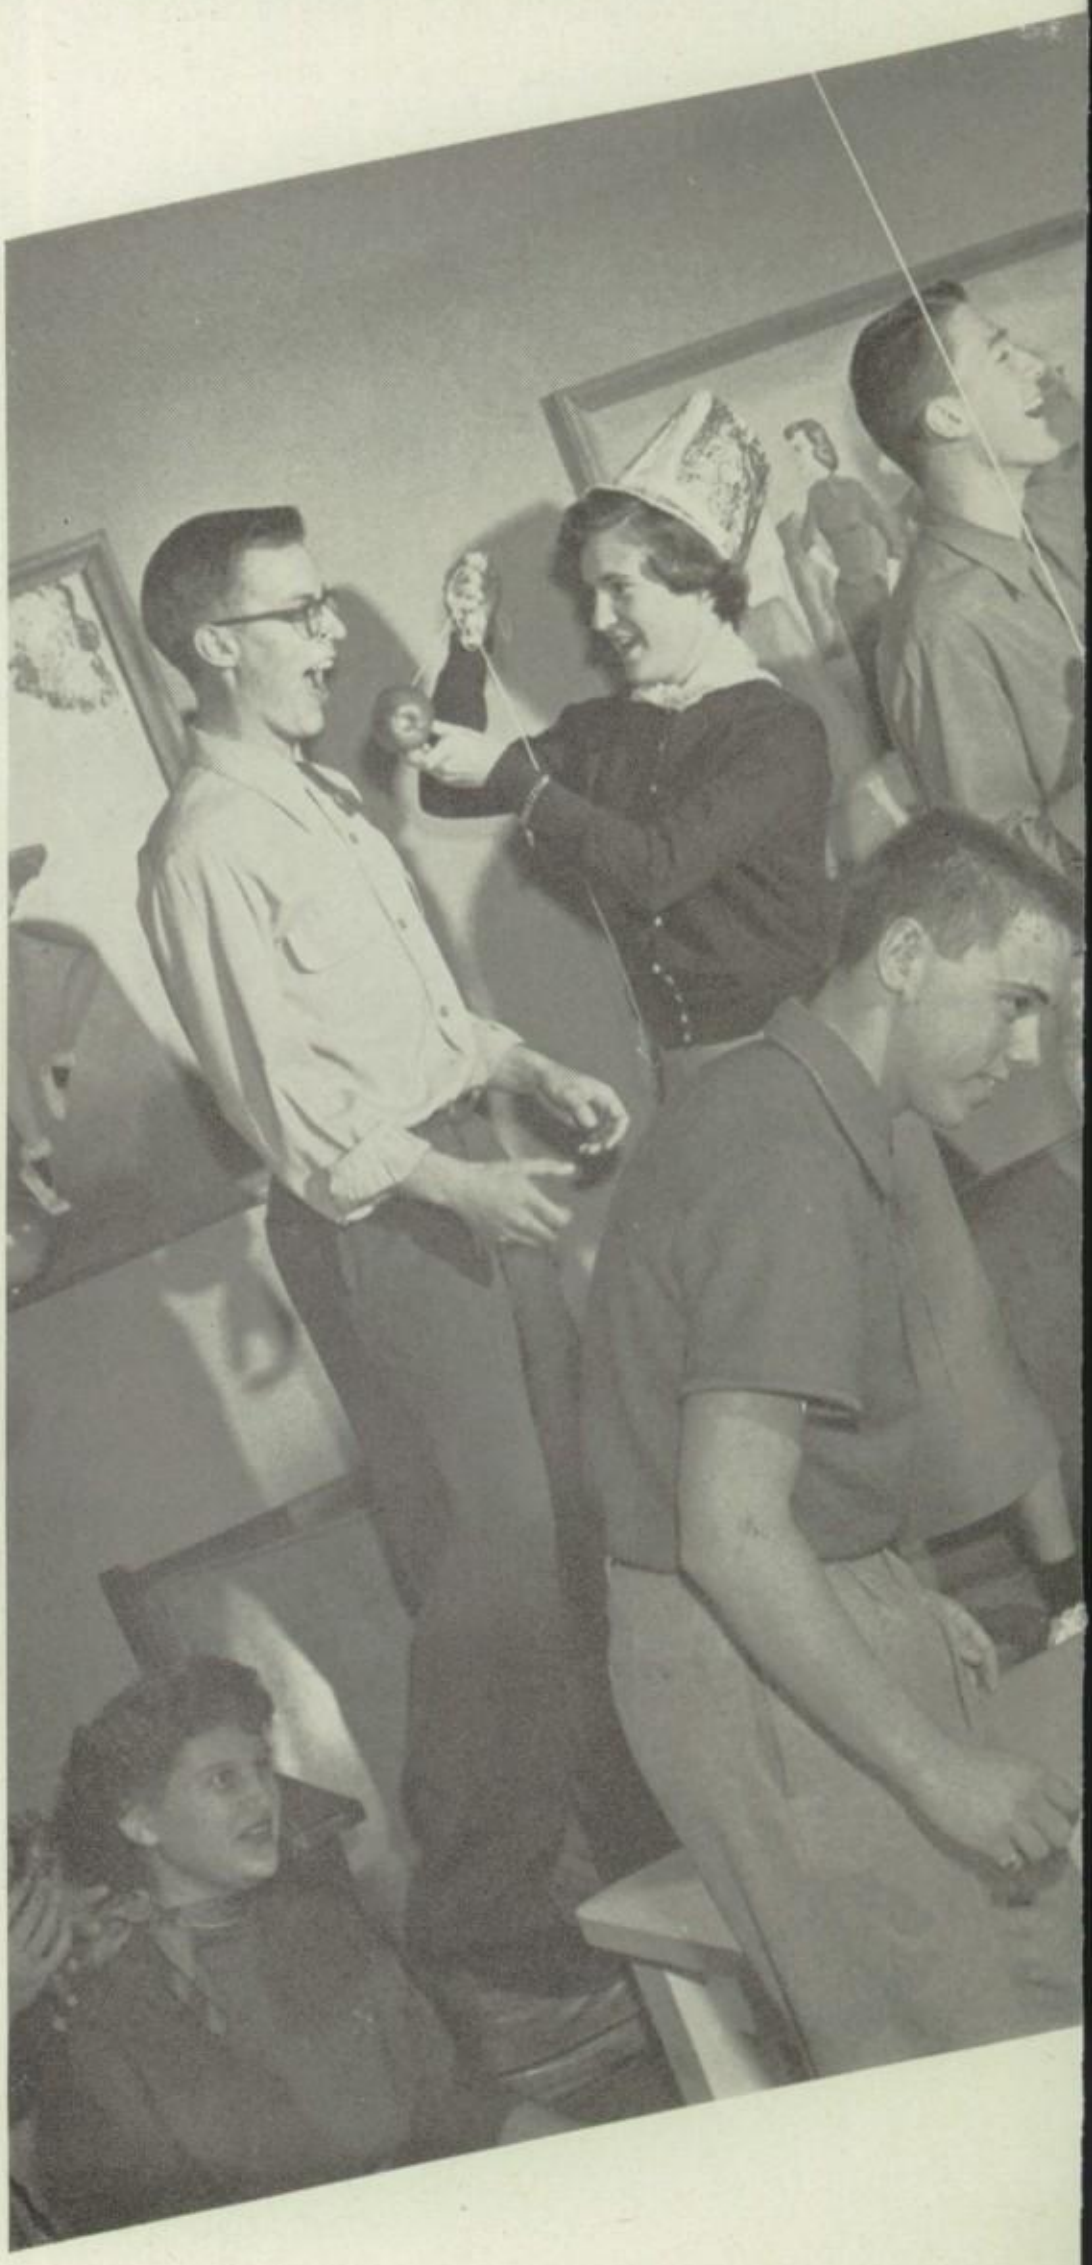
"Fabulous Flupees".

The Social.....

"What ho! 'Tis indeed a group of merrymakers! I must forsooth join them; for surely sometime during the evening they will dance the minuet."



Whirl!

"Yoicks! To the nearest apple tree! What sport!" And with these stirring words Rip Van Winkle was introduced to Poly's social whirl, as the second phase of his re-education in Poly's many activities

BANG! The door of room 12 has just opened and another staff member has "bitten the dust" or in simple language has gone out to schedule a picture or any of the other numerous things that go into the publishing of an annual. Between meeting deadlines and identifying that unknown dog on the football field, the staff got a break and went to Yearbook Day at Redlands University and to Los Angles to tour the engraving company and to select a cover. Finally from a jumble of words and pictures came the KOALA.

"Biggy", the bundle of personality who heads this year's annual staff, is always ready to lend a helping hand (verbally or otherwise) to make the KOALA another stupendous success. Joyce Bigelow deserves every bit of credit she receives. You can take it from the staff members that getting out an annual is no easy job.

They kept

Three other problems of the KOALA staff were Mr. Dixon, Photographic Advisor; Mr. Adams, Yearbook Advisor; and Mr. Butterfield, Art Advisor. Nevertheless, whatever the occasion, they always had an adequate answer of some kind for it, and they gave endless valuable assistance without which this book's publication could never have occurred.

"A little to the left! Smile! There! Wait until I take another one!" These familiar phrases are the chief stock in trade of photographers Jim Caldwell, Charles Richards, Larry Jones, and Bill Pelham.

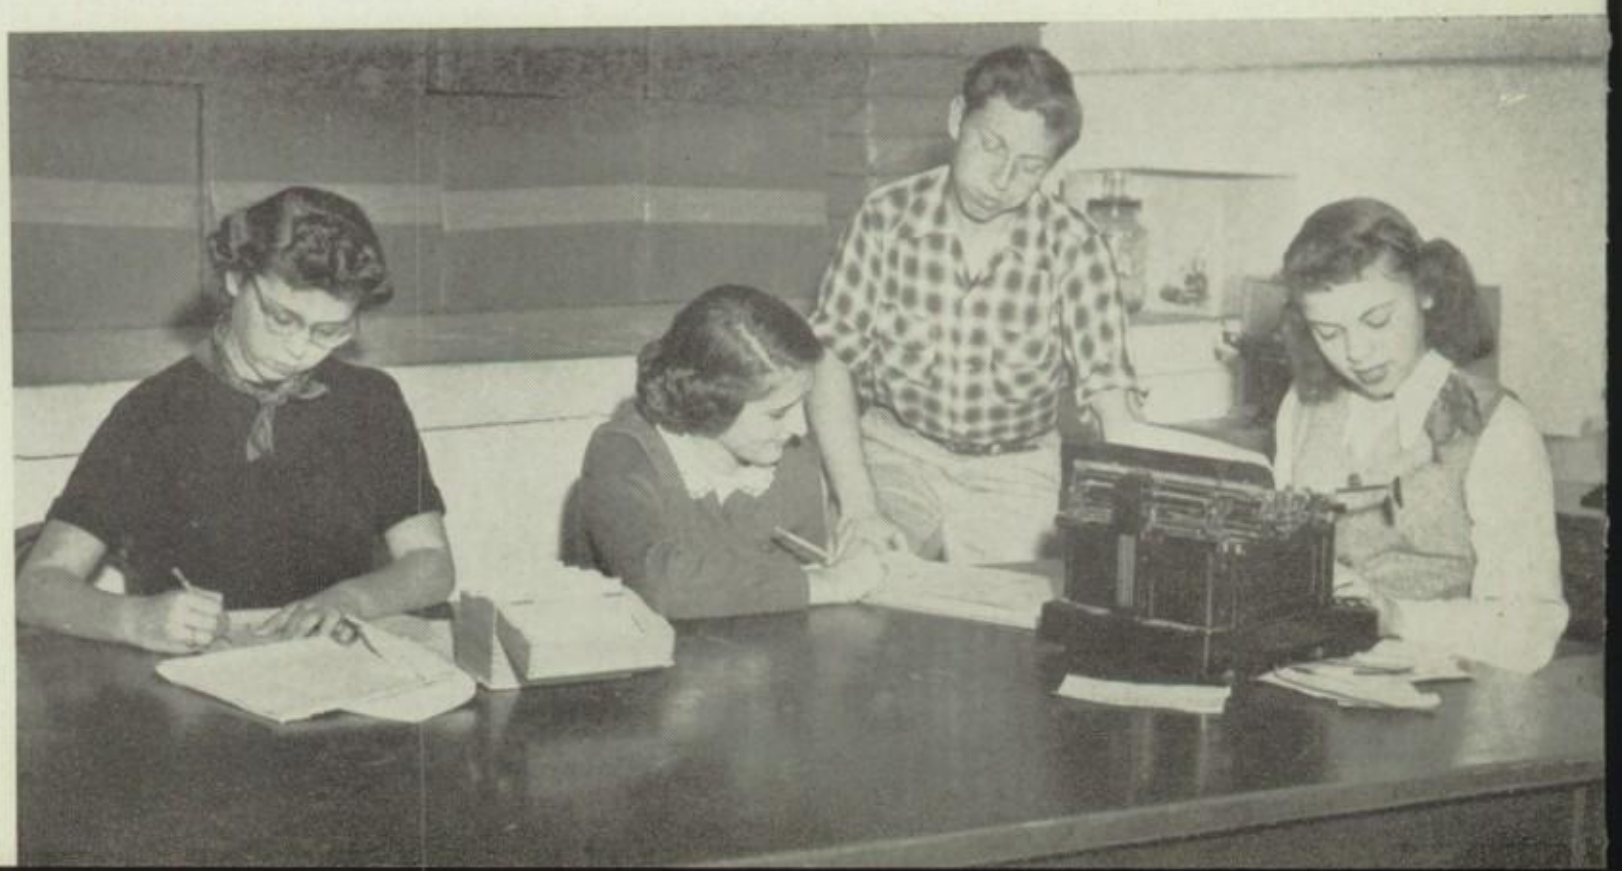
Gathered together from the four corners of the campus for this formal shot is the Koala staff. First row: Betty Carder, Patty Cage, Shirley Miller, Joyce Bigelow, editor, Rita Larson, Judy Morgan. Second row: Susie St. Clair, Norma Ross, Barbara Archer, Marilyn Wells, David Wood, Janet McMillan, Jerra Lynne Tyler, Betty Shelton.

"Big Dean Determan," the capable editor of the now weekly SPOTLIGHT, despite his other career on the basketball team, put out a terrific news sheet and gave us a paper well worth the effort involved.

Publishing a paper is no easy job as any staff member can tell you. Besides perseverance and dependability, you need a flair for writing and the ability to work with others. We thank our lucky stars that Poly High was blessed with a group of students who had in them a generous amount of "stick-to-it-iveness" that could produce a stupendous SPOTLIGHT.

They kept

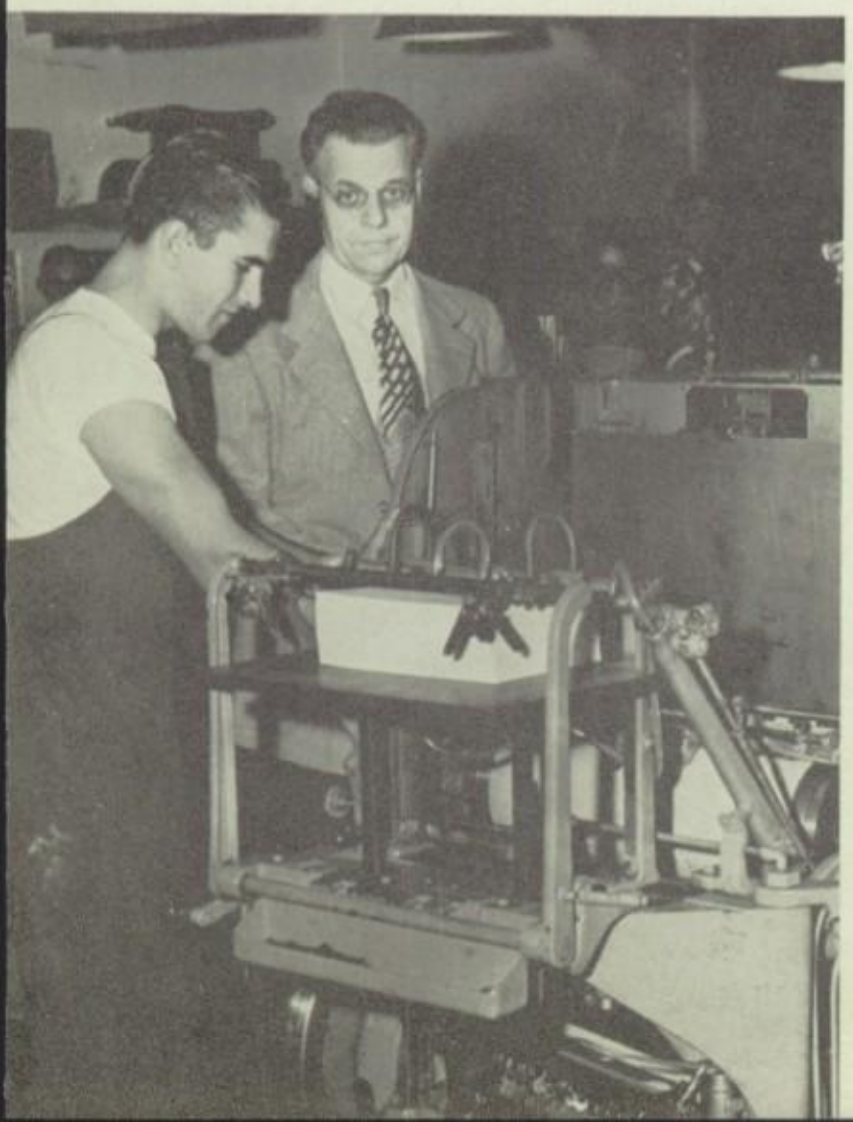
Carol Porter, assistant editor, glances over Kirk Thompson's "scoop" while Pat Piatik proofreads her story and Cy Cicala busily types. Carol really doesn't deserve the "Perilous Porter" title that has been given her. It's just that whenever "boys' sports" are mentioned, Carol flies into a rage which may have helped her to earn her nickname.



In a rare moment of relaxation, the SPOTLIGHT staff catches its breath after meeting another one of those weekly deadlines. The many problems that face a newspaper staff were ably met and competently overcome by these staff members. They are, on benches: Cy Cicala, Vera Sanchez, Maggie Gerhart, Carol Tishko, Sally Chotro, Leona Steves, Frances Smith, Delores Harling, Carol Porter, Karen Dawson, Norma Harris, Dean Kirkpatrick, Kathy Humphreys, Pat Piatik. Down front: Doug Boyes, Glenn Sands, Kirk Thompson, Clarence Hooe.

the week's record

Mr. Phillips, although new to Poly this year, soon made his place as the popular advisor of the SPOTLIGHT. With editor Dean Determan he campaigned for a weekly paper, and after receiving the O. K. sign on it, he met all the problems and obstacles that confronted him, with determination plus the terrific approval of the student body.



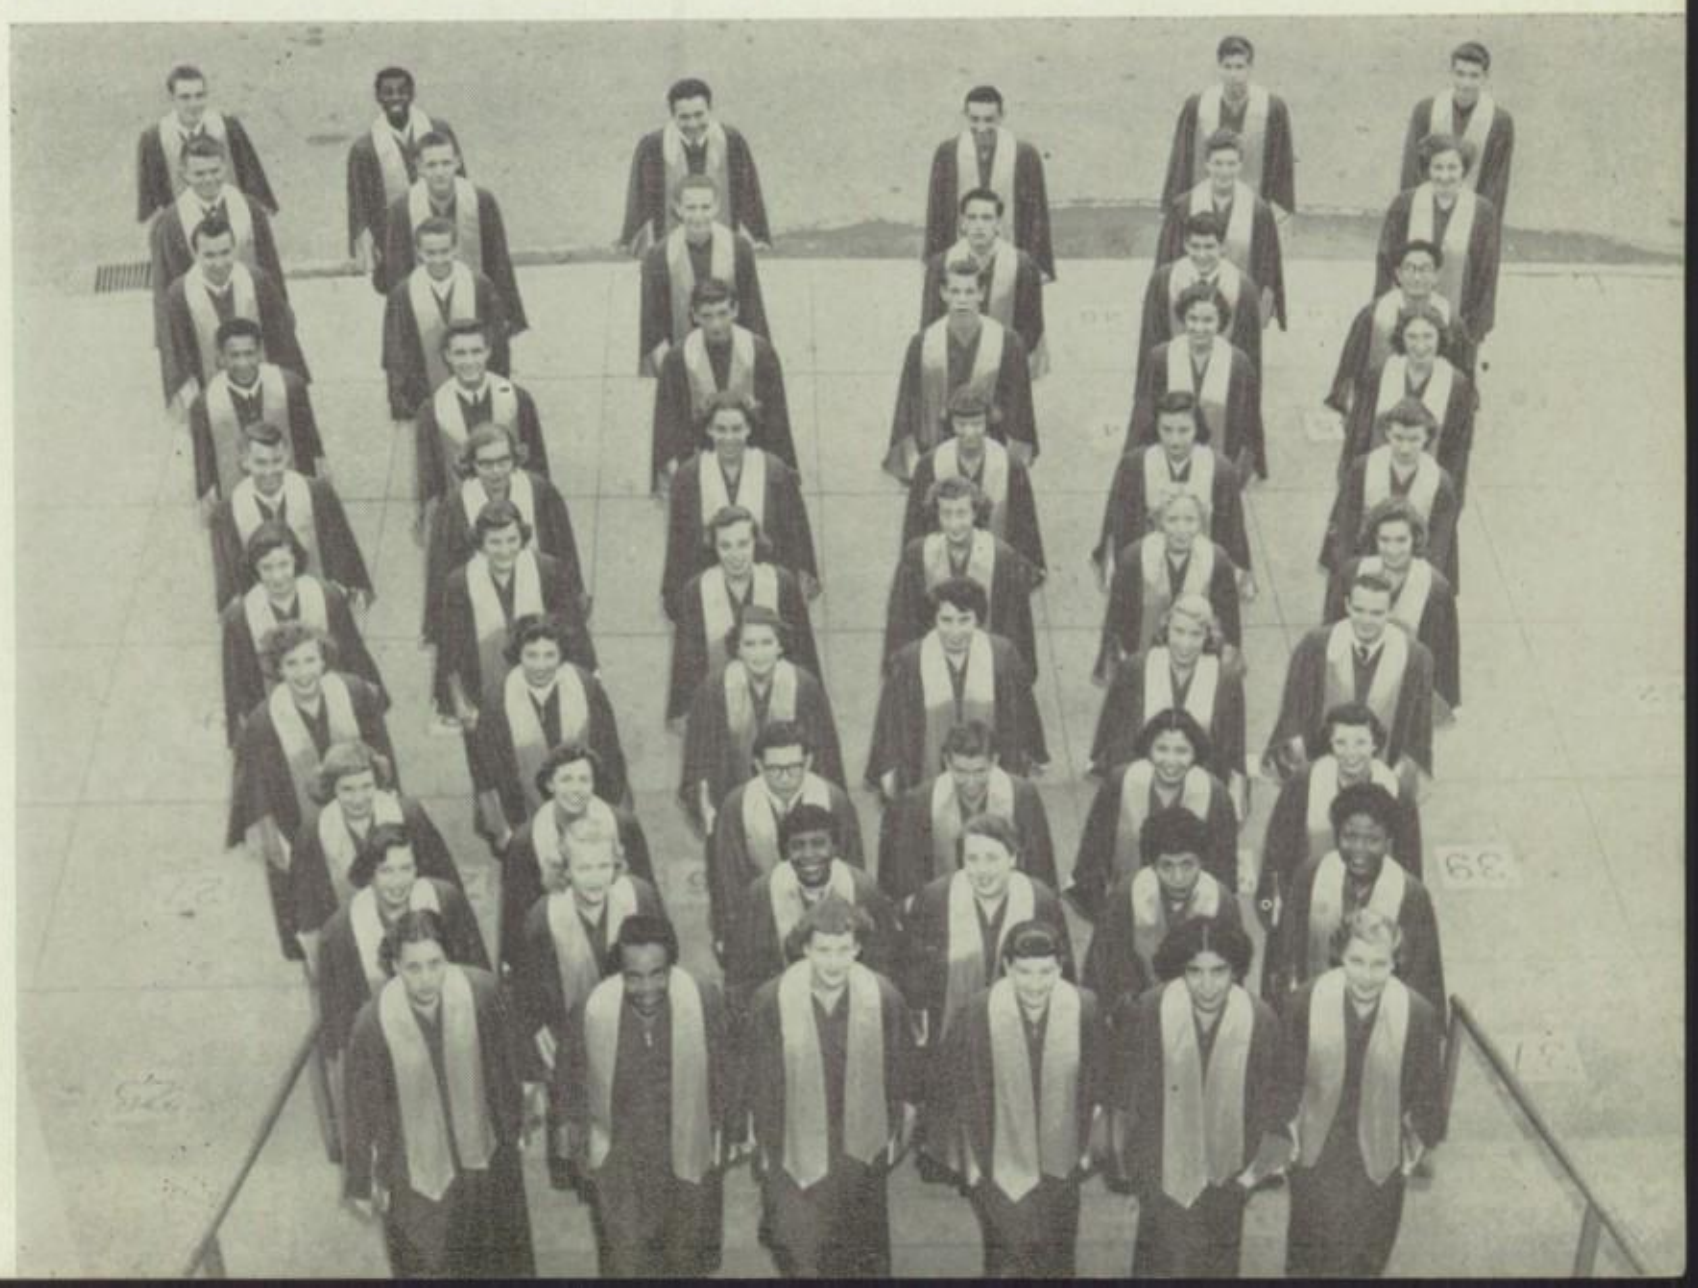
Mr. Epp and Henry Cobb prepare to run off the next issue of the SPOTLIGHT. The print shop is responsible for an enormous amount of printing done here at school and deserves every bit of hearty praise.

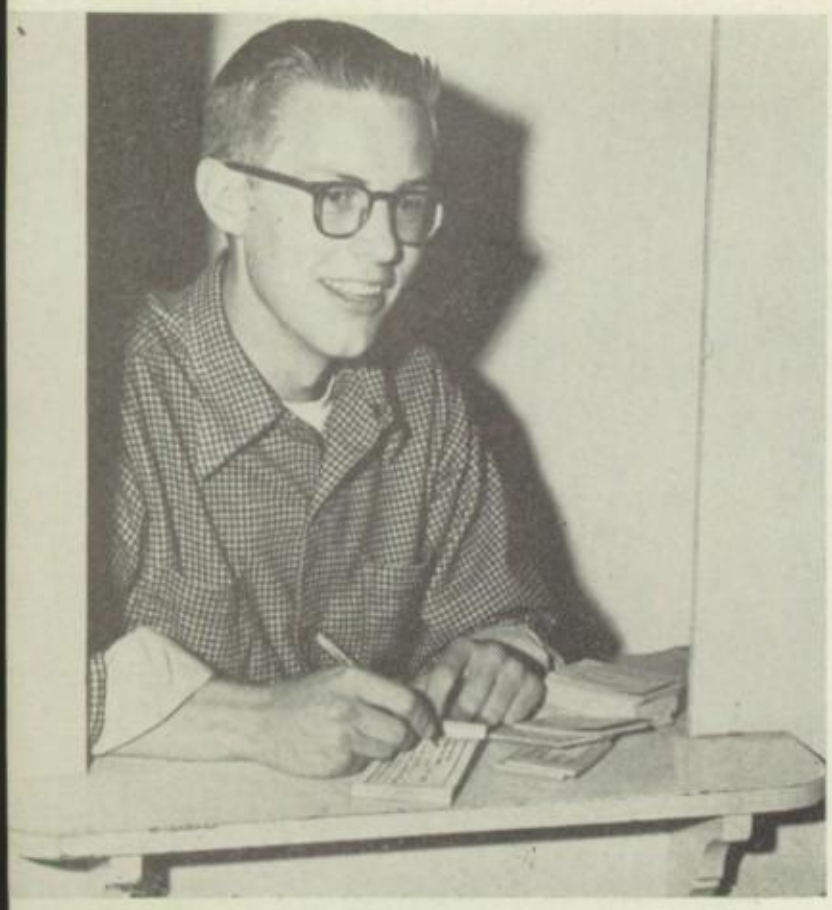
And the band played on!

The finest in instrumental music was presented by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Whitaker. The Christmas Concert, the Dance Assembly, and the City-Wide pageant were just a few of many programs in which they participated. Orchestra members are: Allison, W. Beckwith, R. Beckwith, Burghart, Cenatiempo, Colby, Felicetta, Espinosa, Fisk, Gilbreath, Hamilton, Helmick, Hihm, Kurkjian, Low, McDaniel, Moody, Murdock, Painter, Porter, Seeman, Steves, Wafer Webster, Willifison, Hilderbrandt.

No football game would have been complete without the presence of Poly's renowned band. Under the expert guidance of Mr. Whitaker they received high honors at Santa Monica and the music concert in Redlands; but the high point of the year for them was marching in the Rose Parade—oh, those aching feet! The band members are: first row: Swartling, Sefchick, Seeman, Hibbard, Painter, Schroder, Cooper, Taylor, Henson, Inwood, Morse, Felps. Second row: Turner, Cox, Rendall, Brocket, Boyne, Davis, Bowman, Nichols, Fruciano, Todd, DuBois, Bevinton, Paiman. Third row: Anglemeyer, Dinsmore, Lamberson, R. Beckwith, Duran, Jamison, Casem, Collins, Burchfield, W. Beckwith, Yoder, Walker, Bowers Valincia, McKenzie, Messner, Stark, Best, Crowder. Fourth row: McElhannon, Warren, Gross, Albrecht, Growden, Townsend, O'Donovon.

Poly's mixed choir made listening a pleasure! They participated in more programs this year than ever before. The Christmas Concert, Back to School Night, Spring Concert, the Glee Club Assembly, and the Music Festival at Beverly Hills made up the calendar for these talented choir members. Column 1: Albright, Coryell, McMahon, Bast, Goodwin, Sloan, McHenry, Harnage, Erramuspe, Tomlinson. Column 2: Harris, Coalson, McCarty, Hobbs, Morris, Boeck, Hildebrant, Gustafson, Freeman, Davison. Column 3: Cody, Tillie, Barnchow, Porter, Castle, Morera, St. Clair, Pearl, Miller, Column 4: Jones, Seaver, Chaffin, Reed, Cobb, Wade, Plaxco, Hall, Fruciano. Column 5: Martinez, Fernandez, Ramirez, Tegland, Whiting, Kurkjian, Archer, Wood, Yess, Phares, Column 6: Cobb, Toppin, Woods, Treadway, Mitchell, Kutch, Thomas, de la Torre, Hartsough, Hammond.





Bill DeWolfe, Commissioner of Finance directed this year's A. S. B. sales. When the figures were finally totaled, Poly students found that the annual sales had exceeded all previous years. Much of the credit goes to Bill, who proved as time passed, that it was safe to put "de money in DeWolfe's paws".

Finance and fun

Joy and satisfaction are expressed on the faces of these Poly students as they enthusiastically support their team.

Sparkling Patty Huber, this year's Commissioner of Entertainment and one of Poly's most industrious personalities, did a "bang-up" job throughout the year of securing the best entertainment for our enjoyment.

One of the most popular numbers of the Glee Club Assembly was "They Wouldn't Believe Me" sung by Jane Goodwin and Tom Harnage.

One of the best assemblies this year was presented by Mr. Derick and the combined glee clubs, who serenaded us with both popular and semi-classical music.

Girls League

"Bewitched" back into their childhood days were these faculty members and fathers, Mr. McEuen, Dr. Dunnigan, and Mr. Wrentmore, by members of the Girls' League, Coke Meier, Claudia Sedgwick, and Judy Morgan. This year's Dad-Daughter Night will long be remembered as a gay and hilarious evening.

The first of the Girls' League's numerous activities was the Watermelon Feed, where the sophomore girls met their Senior Sponsors. Shown here searching for those little black seeds are J. Bigelow, J. Tyler, M. Tyler, and J. Ford.

Playing big sister and guide to all sophomore and new girls was a big job for these smiling Senior Sponsors. Those new girls just couldn't seem to find their way out of the boys' locker section! First row: B. Casteen, M. Wilson, P. Jenkins, C. Meier, L. Lewis, P. Hammett, M. Wainwright, E. Hales. Second row: P. Reed, D. Jay, B. Shelton, F. Smith, C. Eide, C. Kjolseth, M. Gerhart, J. Thomas, R. Alessio, M. Neault, S. Tegland, M. Losee, S. Warner. Third row: D. Higbee, K. Dawson, B. Porter, N. Mathis, M. Williamson, P. Potter, P. Cooper, B. Archer, J. Brimmage, R. Larson, L. Tegland.

This year the Girls' League Board, led by the president Claudia Sedgwick, has made great strides in co-ordinating the activities of the Girls' League. The Board includes representatives of all the girl's clubs in school. The Thanksgiving and Christmas drives, assemblies, the redecoration of the lounge, and the Conference held here this winter highlighted the year's activities. Board members, first row: S. Keil, Secretary; V. Adams, Vice President. Second Row: C. Flaherty, G. R. A. President; M. Torres, Spanish American Representative; M. Gerhart, Senior Sponsor President. Third Row: P. Lewis, Treasurer; M. Pizzo, Sophomore Representative; J. Lowe, Friendship Chairman; M. Frock, Civics Chairman. Fourth Row: M. Fisk, Section President; M. Wells, Project Chairman; K. Cress, Program Chairman; V. Porter, Citizenship Chairman. Fifth Row: D. Hogan, Hi-Tri President; C. Tillie, Negro Representative; S. St. Clair, Service Chairman. Sixth Row: C. Sedgwick, President; Miss Jean Thayer, Advisor.

The many and varied activities at Poly were capably handled by these club presidents. First Row: S. Ward, World Friendship Club; F. Smith, Poly Chamber of Commerce; S. St. Clair, Girl's League Service Club. Second Row: F. Sofsky, Chess Club; C. Sedgwick, Girls' League; R. Alvarado, Latin-American Club. Third Row: D. Wood, Model Railroad Club and Science Club; J. Kennedy, Riverside Hi-Y Club; B. Worf, Poly Ramblers. Fourth Row: D. Shirk, Christian Fellowship Club (first noon); T. Beld, Pep Club; R. Hendry, National Forensic League. Fifth Row: J. Brown, Christian Fellowship Club (second noon); F. Krinard, Key Club and California Scholarship Federation; G. Wood, Barons Hi-Y Club.

HI-TRI CABINET. Row one: D. Myers, finance; B. Clark, service; M. Mansholt, membership; J. McMillan, treasurer. Row two: P. Roberts; conference; T. Edmonds, secretary; M. Haddox, Senior Class President; J. Schanz, project. Row three: J. Jory, devotions; M. Lovell, Junior Class President; P. Cage, publicity; M. Leonard, Sophomore Class President. Row four: A. Suverkrup, social; C. Allen, ceremonials; K. Mayer, vice-president; J. Cole, foods. Row five: C. Sedgwick, Girls' League respresentative; S. Woods, music.

A warm smile and a cheery hello are the trademarks of Hi-Tri's president Dixie Hogan. A competent and hard-working person, she led the club through a year full of fun, frolic and seriousness.

Hi-Tri-ers grow

The first big event of the year for the members of Hi-Tri was the Christmas formal "Holiday Heaven". Dancing to soft music surrounded by shadowed lights, we finished out the holiday season in a big whirl.

mind, spirit.

While Mom stayed home, Dad and Daughter stepped out to the Y.W.C.A. for a delicious dinner and a lot of fun at the annual Hi-Tri Dad-Daughter Banquet. The program featured the "Memories" of the roaring 20's and the dad's own college days.

The latest fashions were modeled by Hi-Tri members and their mothers at the Mother-Daughter Tea and Fashion Show. Here Barbara Castle shows a formal that many a girl tried to get into her own wardrobe by hook or by crook, or by unusual periods of sweetness or even by tantrums.

All members of Hi-Tri were required to attend the Recognition Service. Because of the large number of girls participating in the service, they were not allowed to light individual candles as they joined in the reaffirmation of faith. Dixie Hogan, Hi-Tri president, lit the three candles which signify our aim as Y-Teens to grow in body, mind and spirit.

With every good intention the Hi-Y meetings started out to be serious and quiet ones, where a mountain of work was to be accomplished. But since, in spite of all contrary wishes, men will be boys, the meetings just somehow got louder and louder until even the presidents joined in to hear who took out whom, where they went, and what they did. Seriously, though, the boys worked to spread a spirit of friendliness and helpfulness throughout our community and to maintain the high ideals of fellowship.

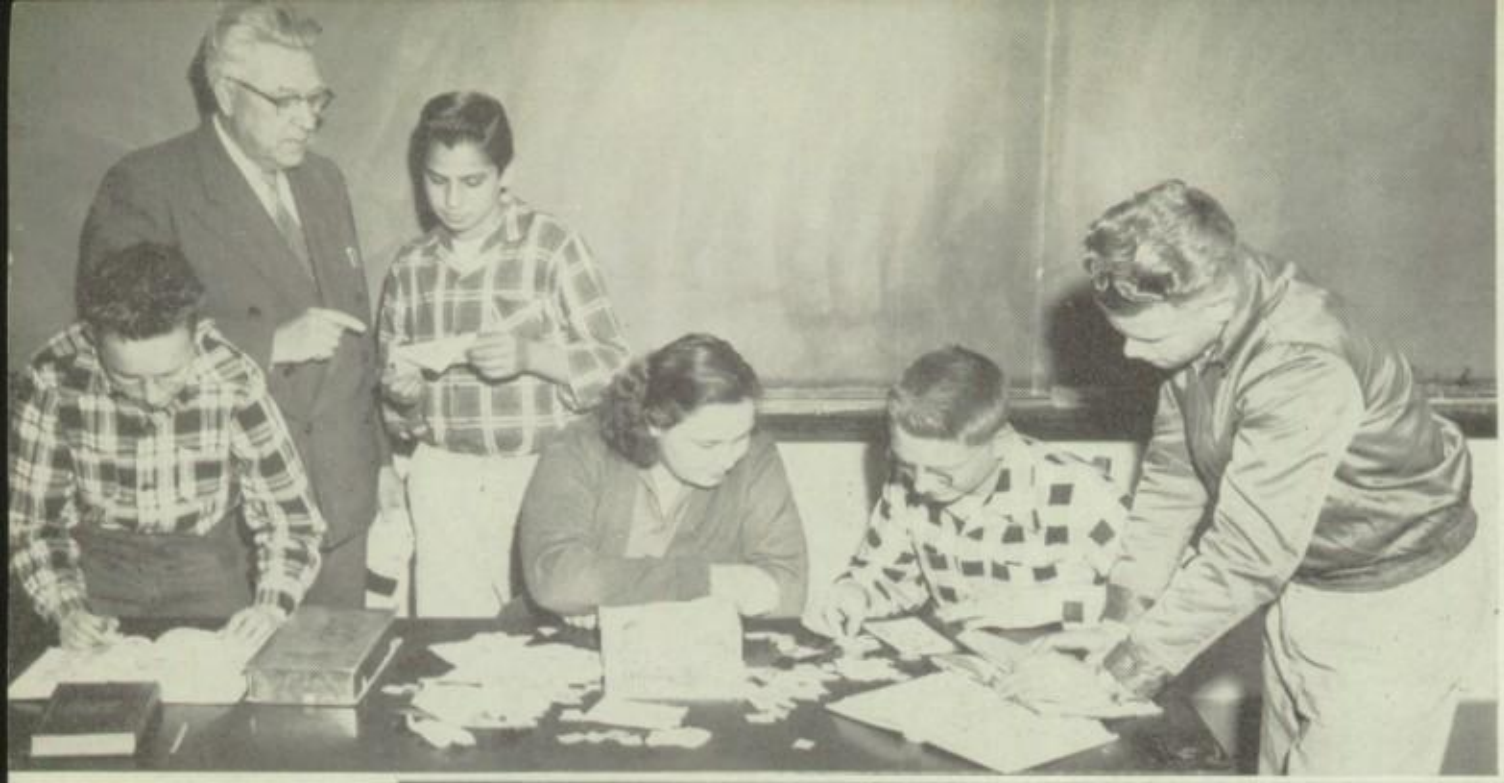
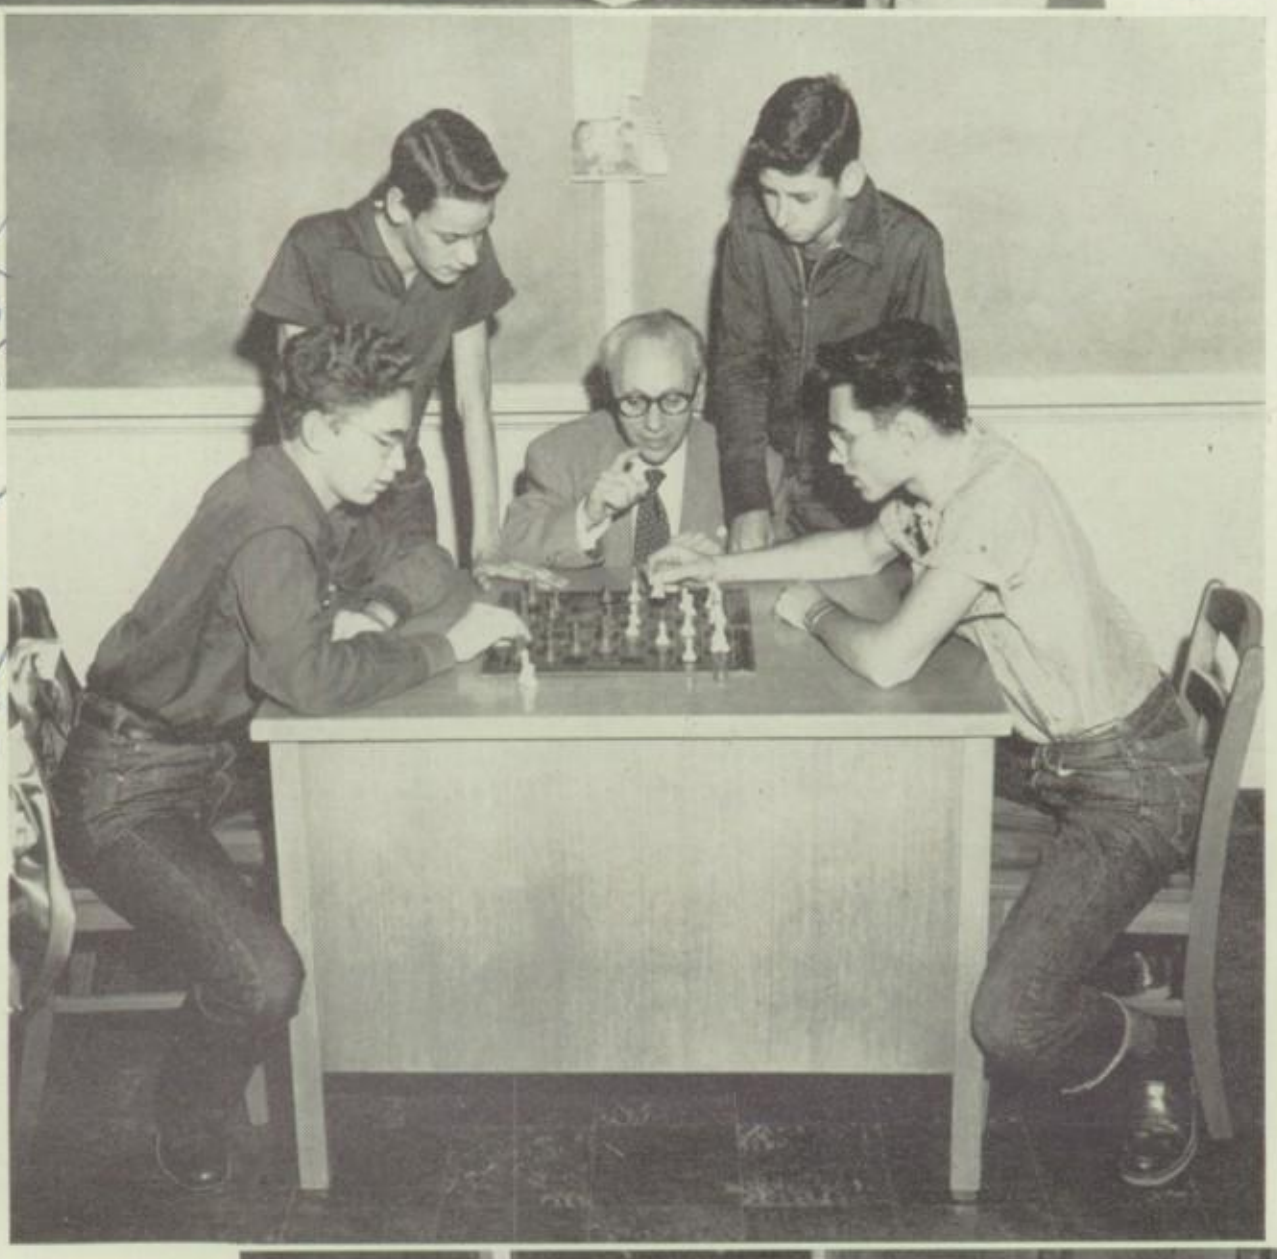
WORLD FRIENDSHIP CLUB. Sending school supplies to Holland was the main project of the World Friendship Club this year. Between collecting pencils and paper the club had an active year with general meetings, special speakers, conventions, and parties. Members are, first row: Ward, Boyd, Baker, Williams. Second row: Reed, Phillips, Hemstead, Brouillete, Scott. Third row: Miss Shulze, advisor, Krietz, Kajiyama.



Stamp and Coin Club—Collecting stamps, old or new, and coins, rare or not so rare, was the interesting hobby pursued by these Stamp and Coin Club members. Left to right: Jorgenson, Mr. Deeter (advisor), Prado, Roberts, Helmick, Adams.



Chess Club—Learning the fine art of chess playing was the main purpose of the Chess Club. Here Mr. List kibi⁴ zes in a chess game between D. DuBois and F. Sofski. The interested spectators are E. Dalton and T. Frost.

Just what we need at Poly, to get us from the gym to the Science Building in five short minutes. Unfortunately it is both too small and unavailable except to the members of the Model Railroad Club. Mr. Clyde and Mr. Barton, (advisors) LeCocq, Holt, Wood.

Science Club—The purpose of this club was to further the student's interest in and increase his knowledge of science. Club members, row one: Chotro, Dieterle, Hall, Dalton, Richards, Thomas. Row two: Troop, Shallock, Jones, Hepner, Knox, Helmick, Mr. Eckel, (advisor), Wood.

Poly's chapter of "horse lovers" was aptly named "Ramblers", for that's just what they did. Midnight rides, picnics, and parties relieved the monotony of bouncing up and down on one's favorite steed. Members are, row one: Lebrecht, Fentress, Kennedy, Mr. Frost, (advisor). Row two: Peters, Jones, Doran. Row three: Humphreys, Warf, Mazzetti, Moe, Davis, Hamilton, Adamson.

Publicity, publicity, and more publicity was the main object of the Poly Chamber of Commerce. All coming school events were advertised by posters and banners painted by the more industrious members of the P. C. C. They were also responsible for the decorations at the games and many of the school dances. Members are, row one: Mylne, Isaacs, MacFarland, Myers. Row two: Herrera, Seaver, Moore, Simns, Radney, Gier, Pickett, Spikes, Kirkjen, Smith, Long, Sharpe, Mrs. Wallace (advisor), Bennett. Row three: Seaver, Paimer, Oglesby, Norwood, Paul, Alessio, Elmand, Edmonds, Kelly, Mallock, Keil, Ford, Dawson, Smith.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP CLUB. First noon. Row 1: C. Sharp, L. Dieterle, C. Curtis, J. Worchester, R. Long, Y. Harris, P. Porter. Row 2: R. Braley, M. Wilson, S. Hodges, S. Skaggs, M. Simmons, C. GIRLS' LEAGUE SERVICE BOARD. Need some help? If so, you can call on the Girls' League Service Club for they are always ready and willing to lend a helping hand. Board members are, first row: Susie St. Clair, Evelyn Hales. Second row: Barbara Porter, Pat Meares, Marilyn Cerda, Joan Cunningham. Third row: Sharon Hulbert, Rose Franklin, Janice Brumgardt, Frances Smith.

STUDENT UNION BOARD. "Those Crazy Monday Nights" at the Municipal Auditorium were the responsibility of the Student Union Board. Jim Derris, Dennis Weeks, Gene Wood, Janet McMillan, Susie St. Clair take Joyce Blount's ticket.

KEY CLUB. The members of the Key Club are the Junior Kiwanians whose main purpose is service to the school and community. First row: Sandy Brown, Charles Nicks, Steve Dowd, Tom Goodmundson, Fred Krinard, Jack Dodson. Second row: Carl Growden, Bill Waite, Tom Frolick, Mr. Kelly (Advisor), David Gerow, Doug Boyd, Bob Siro, Bill Pelham.

Always ready, able and willing to put in their two cents' worth were the members of the debate teams, which came in second in C. I. F. finals, winning 43 out of 58 debates. Members are, row 1: Coach Kutch, J. Parlette, T. Fox, S. Woods, M. Einzig, P. Huber, H. Forkner. Row 2: B. Hensen, C. Sedgwick, R. Hendry, L. Lewis, J. Hale, M. Erkenfeld.

The purpose of the National Forensic League is to interest high school students in good speech and to acquire for them a reasonable degree of effectiveness in it. It sponsors such activities as a Student Congress and State Debate Tournaments. Members are, row 1: P. Huber, C. Sedgwick, L. Lewis, R. Hendry. Row 2: J. Caskey, J. Hale, S. Harris, M. Wilson, S. Mihiele. Row 3: Coach Kutch, D. Determan, S. Woods, T. Fox, B. Hensen.

Verve with verbs

The members of the oratory group were very active this year, participating in the American Legion, Lion's Club, Golden West, and Voice of Democracy contests, in all of which they placed high. Members are, row 1: B. Kutch, S. Harris, C. Sedgwick, S. Warner, R. Pertel. Row 2: D. Hogan, J. Hale, S. Dood, D. Determan, J. Coffin, J. Brown, M. Wilson.

If anyone were to ask who the biggest "character" on the campus was, most people would immediately exclaim "David Elwood MacCuish!" Here is a real man loaded with talent, an enormous sense of humor and a teacher's capacity for dishing out real assignments. Mr. MacCuish has directed many a terrific success as drama teacher and play director here; and in all future productions, we wish him the best of luck!

"The Man Who Came to Dinner", by Kaufman and Hart, concerned the antics of a famous writer played by Dave Albert, when a "broken" leg prevented him from leaving a small town. Highly acclaimed as one of the best plays in Poly's history, it will long be happily remembered by all who were fortunate enough to see it. A few of the cast on stage are: first row: J. Derris, D. Albert, J. Lewis, M. Bitzer, J. Treadway, A. Conn, J. Nickolson, D. Hinshaw. Second row: J. Young, D. Miller, J. Shannan, C. Hampton, E. Goforth.

The entire cast of the A. S. B. play, "The Man Who Came To Dinner", gathers for a final shot. Cast members are, first row: J. Lewis, H. Ingman, J. Treadway, J. Parlette, J. Young, D. Albert, J. Nickolson, M. Crouch, J. Derris, C. Hooe, J. Kay, B. Monte. Second row: J. Shannon, C. Sowers, C. Hampton, R. Chamberlain, P. Huber, D. Hinshaw, D. Miller, Y. Bonsell, T. Frolich, J. Baxter, R. Hughes, R. Myers, A. Conn, L. Gonzalez, E. Goforth, M. Bitzer, R. Shannon.

"Terrific!" "Another smash hit for the Senior Class!" "Stupendous!" "Such acting ability!" were only a few of the many favorable comments heard from the audience after the Senior Class play "Tons of Money." The cast members are pictured during one of the more orderly scenes. They are, standing: F. Farr, J. Morgan, M. Jones, J. Owens, D. Lang, and S. Farber. Seated: D. Hinshaw, S. Harris, and C. Beier. Not pictured is D. Albert.

Hidden talent awakened

S. Harris offers some of her invaluable advice, as usual, as D. Hinshaw and S. Lang console the tearful widow, C. Meier. The great acting ability that can bring tears to the eyes of watchers was sprinkled generously on the cast of the Senior Class play as they brought tears to eyes of the hysterical audience and had them "rolling in the aisles."

from sleep.

"The Perfect Woman" was unveiled by the Junior Class at their annual play. Needless to say the audience was shocked, delighted and extremely satisfied by the efforts of the lower classmen and saw promise of a great class, next to come.

R. Hughes, T. Edmonds, and R. Shannon react in various ways to the food set before them as I. Nash and A. MacFarland argue on the right method of serving it.

Caught in the rather embarrassing predicament of not having shorts and argyles match is R. Hughes. Y. Bonsall is not at all interested in his dilemma, but rather wants only to find "The Perfect Woman"—and Richard certainly does not fill the bill.

The whole cast of the Junior Play line up for a well deserved round of applause. They are J. Parlette, I. Nash, M. Tyler, R. Hughes, S. Ward, (who plays Ermatrude, the robot), T. Edmonds, R. Shannon, A. MacFarland, J. Baxter.

Radiant smiles are flashed by Jack Coffin and Jerra Lynne Tyler after being officially crowned King and Queen of the Festival of Nations, this year's Carnival theme.

Carnival of Nations

The carnival, an annual affair, is a money-raising project sponsored by the associated student body, and each club here at Poly has a booth. This year's carnival was a tremendous success.

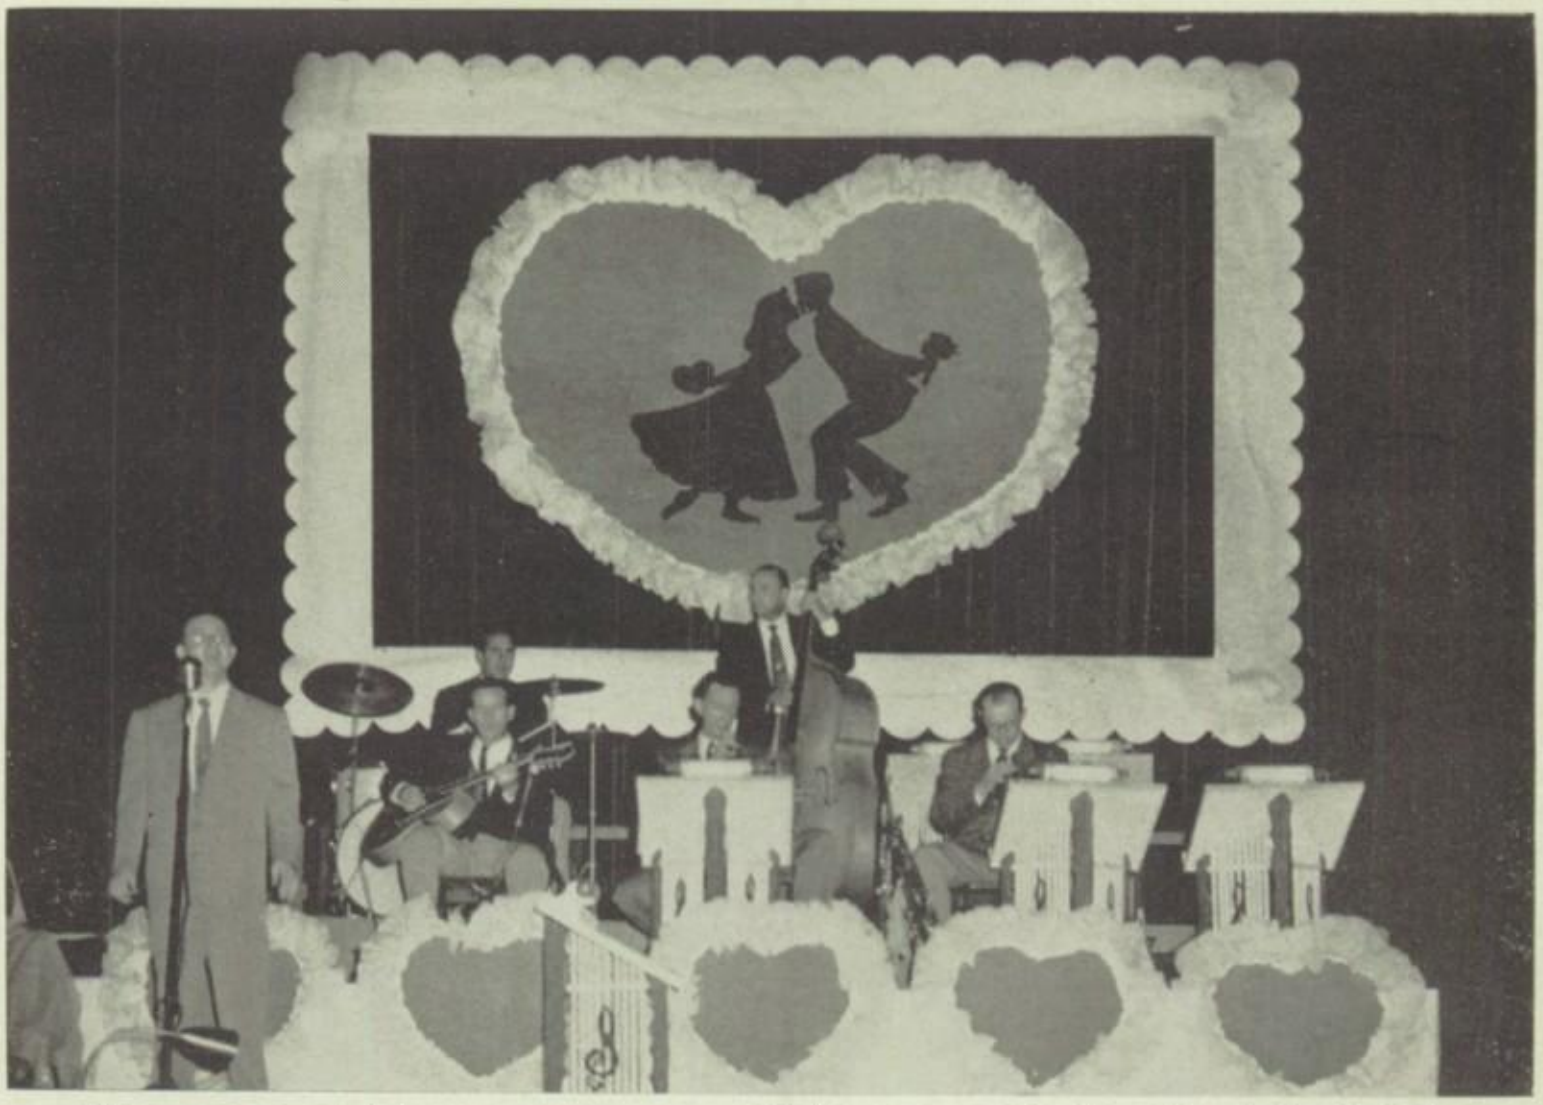
"She's all wet!" shouted the Juniors at their prizewinning carnival booth, where all you had to do was hit the bell with a baseball and down came the water on Anne Suverkrup or any other Junior girl who happened to be waiting but probably not very willing.

The seniors did it again! They took first prize at the Carnival for their cake walk, Promenade De Gateau. And here are those Orts who made it such a success. Row 1: Pat Hammett, Barbara Porter. Row 2: Pat Johns, Myrdeen Williamson, Mr. Cooper, Gerald Barnhart, Roger Payton.

See anyone you know? You probably will because EVERYONE, from the mighty Senior to the lowly Sophomore, was in the gym to see the greatest and most stupendous Carnival ever held at Poly!

Tacos! And more Tacos! Sally Herrera is doing a big business selling those delicious "Mouthfuls of Fire" at the Spanish-American Booth,where you could also purchase those eggs filled with confetti that always seemed to end up cracked on your own head.

"Hearts 'n' Flowers"



This year around February every young girl's fancy turned to thoughts of the A. S. B. dance; and when her young man presented her with "Hearts and Flowers", her dreams were complete.

"Fantasia"

A "Fantasia" of dreams, Cinderella's slipper, castles in the air, and Prince Charming all surrounded us as we danced through the misty cloud that separates our world of realism from fairyland. Jerra Lynne Tyler happily anticipates that wonderful evening when she and John Schnur can whirl away into that land of dreamy make-believe at the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Military men drilled and marched through the year, eagerly awaiting the climax to their social affairs, the Military Ball. Finally that January night came when they danced to the music of Johnny Guinn, ate those delicious refreshments, received their commissions, and forgot that they were training to be soldiers and had a wonderful time with their best girl.

Military Ball

The climax of the Ball was the grand march at which Capt. Crabtree announced the names of the officers who had received commissions. Anticipation and happiness showed on the faces of everyone present, and a wonderful time was had by all.

Shoeless Shuffle

Hi Shirley. It has really been swell knowing you this year. Be good & have fun this summer.
Nancy Robison "54"

The annual G. R. A. "Shoeless Shuffle" featured the crowning of Rose Alessio as Football Queen by the team captain, Cal Phillian. Mary Lou Spitsnaugle, junior princess, presents the crown for Rose's coronation.

The Mexican Shuffle done Poly style was just about the liveliest dance at the "Shuffle". It took caution though—it was too easy to slip on those smooth floors in your stocking feet.

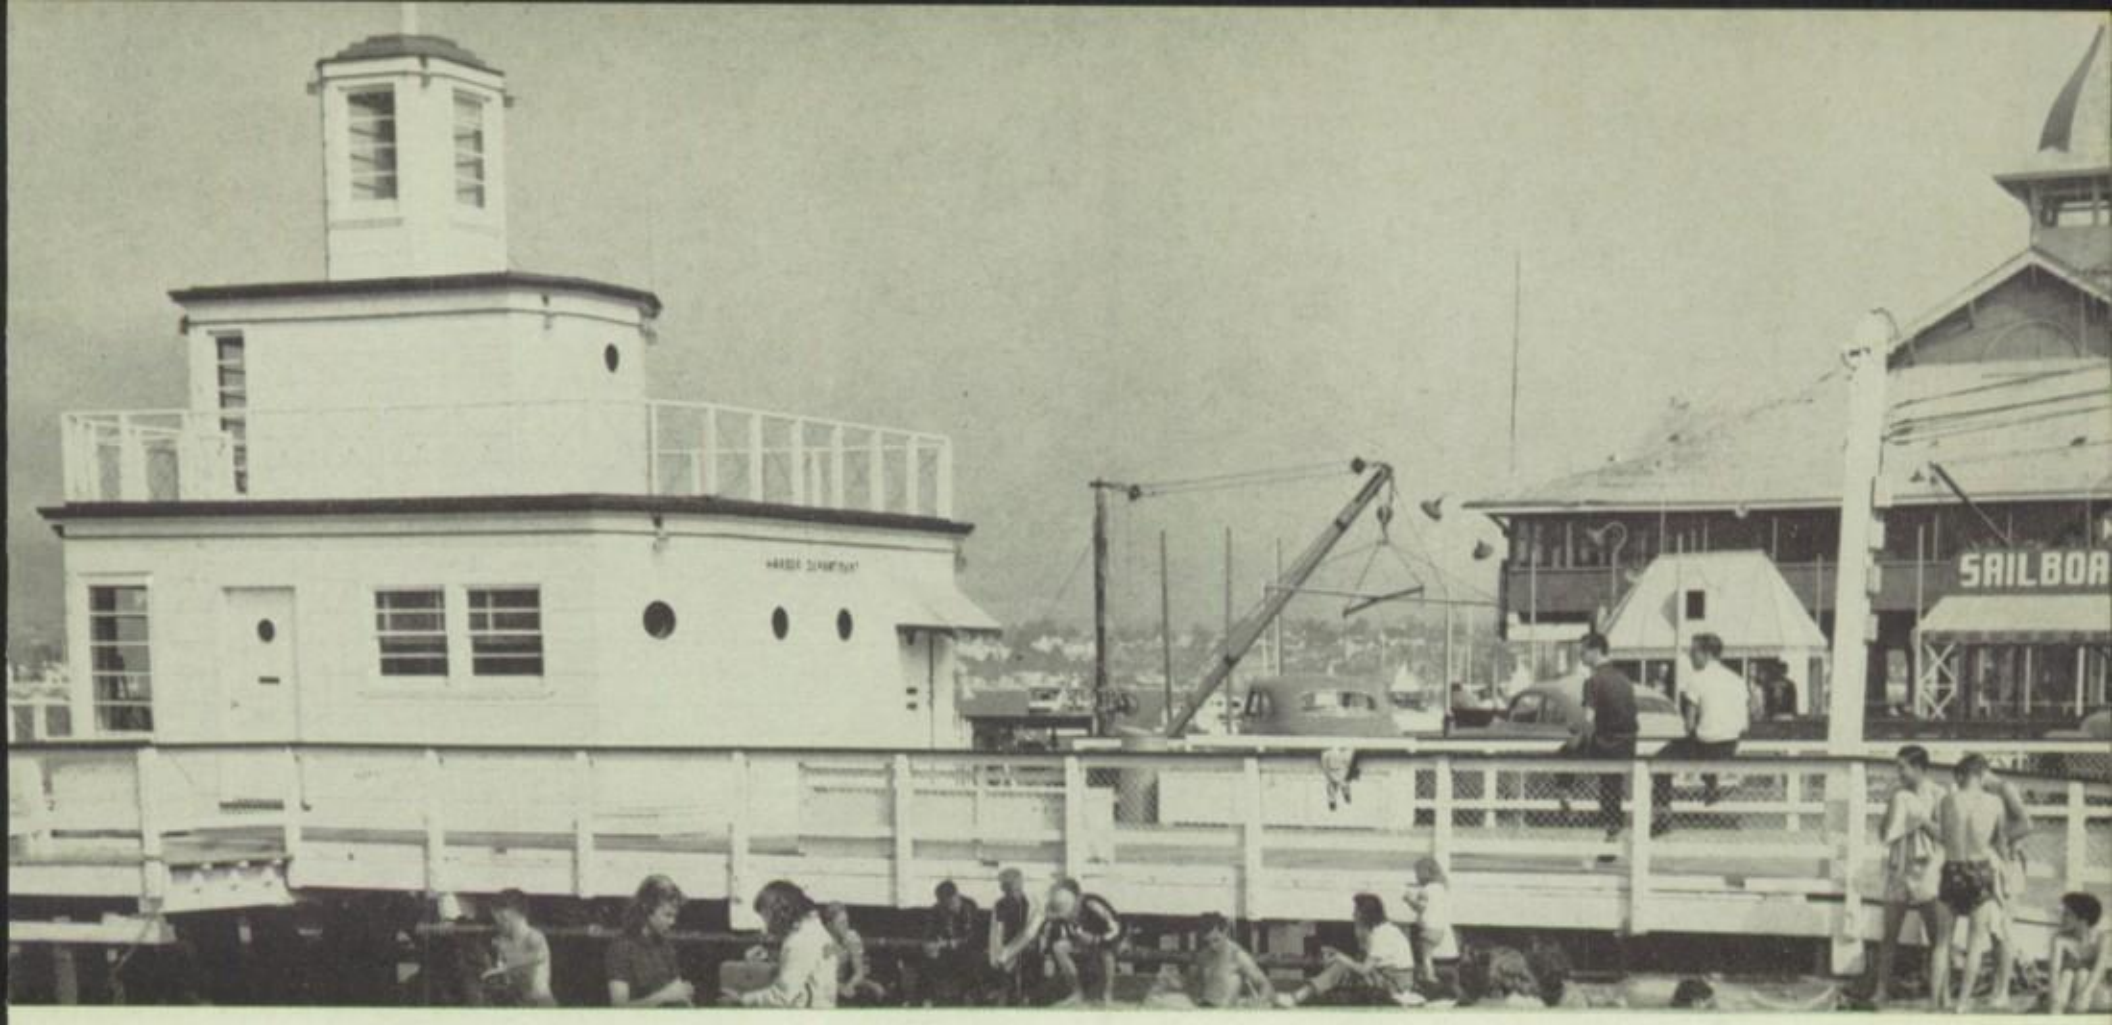
Rip invaded

Wonder what they're looking at? It must be very interesting; at least it gave Jean Parlette a jolt. It also intrigues A. Rikhof, J. Ford, B. Hofman, C. Johnson, and Y. Bonsell.

One solid week of no school, just a lot of fun, with swimming in the blue Pacific and tanning under the bright sun! Glorious? It was wonderful! But next year we recommend another week in which to recuperate from Spring Vacation!



Oh, what a familiar scene this was to all Polyites who spent that "mad" week at "Bal". Everyone remembers how hard it was to get through the roaring mob at the fun zone.

Balboa

Playing cards was a popular past time for all red-faced individuals who had to recuperate from that day in the sun. Here are T. Edmonds, A. Pickett, N. Freeman, A. Harris, and J. Goodwin.

No, it's not Muscle Beach, only Balboa with its own crew of strongmen, headed by Dean Determan who seems to have quite a following. S. Bennett, V. Hamilton, S. Pavet, R. Knudson, S. Fifer, D. Determan, M. Wells.

Once a year an amazing change occurs at Poly. This change is commonly called "Sponge Week" and is sponsored by the Girls' League. Tradition decrees that during this one (thank heavens, it's only one) week the girls ask the boys out, pay for everything, and in general perform all the little courtesies that the boys usually do for the girls (?), such as opening doors, carrying books, holding coats, etc. Janice Tuttle calls for Jerry Barto and starts the date off right by opening the car door for him.

Girls' Treat

"Service with a smile," says Janice to Jerry as she pulls out his chair to seat him at the table. In some cases, though, "Sponge Week" backfired for the boy when the gals treated the guys as they had been treated the whole year. Some male eyes were opened and resolutions made as to the right way and the wrong way to treat a date by the completely amazed young men.

1953 Nights

A sly genie, a greedy sultan, beautiful harem girls, jive, happy mummies and 53 strong, brave thieves were only parts of the terrific Senior class assembly, "The 1953 Nights," which was a take-off on the "Tales of the 1001 Arabian Nights." Underneath all the grease paint Bob Alvarado is putting on him, is Don Woodruff, the cunning genie who appeared magically in a cloud of smoke out of the old lamp to tempt the Sultan with gold. If the Sultan's greed got the better of him, he would be doomed to trade places with the evil genie until someone else's greed would release him.

The Thundering...

"What manner of noise is this?" Rip thaught, puzzled. " 'Tis the distant thunder or the little men once again playing ten-pins. Od's bodikins!—'tis neither—'tis a feminine avalanche!"

. . . Herd!

—And so Rip Van Winkle, with a hockey-stick wrapped neatly around his neck, was introduced to feminine sports, 1953 style, and to the Poly world of

WOW! Here's that added attraction at all football and basketball games, our Pom Pom girls, Ann Miller, Marlene Crouch, Ailene White, Mary Lou Spitsnaugle, and Betty Greenlee, who really kept the crowds cheering!

Wow! All this and pep too!

Whether it was to the tune of "Across The Field" or to the beat of "Shanty In a Town", you completely exhausted your vocal cords in yelling for our Poly teams. The job of leading us was well filled by these "cool cats," June McCarty, Diane Myers, Ted Beld, and Esther Johnson.

Oh, those nights after school when all and sundry ran themselves ragged chasing tennis balls, making baskets, or trying to keep themselves in the "Y" swimming pool! Then there were parties and a banquet to end the year. And out of all this came many new friends and a lot of fun to remember the Girls' Recreation Association of 1953.

Feminine beauty

Always smiling and ready to lend a helping hand was the industrious president of G. R. A. Claire Flaherty.

G. R. A.

Hot Dog time was held this year at the Girl Scout House where all G.R.A. members got together for the annual Weiner Bake. Between cokes, hot dogs, and potato chips they somehow found time to sing songs and even have some entertainment. That's why the boys are there, in case you were wondering.

Junior Orchesis is an honor modern dance club, the membership of which is on a strictly competitive basis. The girls work to attain poise and grace, a thorough knowledge of dance techniques and to learn the fundamentals of choreography. Board members are: first row, J. Tuttle, S. St. Clair, P. Reed; second row, K. Yess, S. Harper; third row, G. Gilligan, D. Potter, V. Hamilton, C. Bryant.

Dance, ballerina,

Along with master dance lessons and trips to ballets, Junior Orchesis members enjoyed various social affairs. Certainly the profitable one ("edibly" speaking) was the Mexican dinner at Gay and Larry's with Pat Christopher, a former member of Orchesis, as guest of honor. Seated with back to camera, S. St. Clair, J. Jory; facing camera, D. Potter, V. Hamilton, C. Bryant, P. Christopher, Mrs. Sharp, J. Tuttle, S. Olson.

Because membership in Junior Orchesis is limited to Juniors and Seniors, the Sophomores formed a club of their own. They worked to improve their poise and grace and to learn the fundamentals of dance techniques. Members include: P. Worth, S. Bennett, J. Baker, J. Kiel, J. Spencer, M. Richards, B. Kutch.

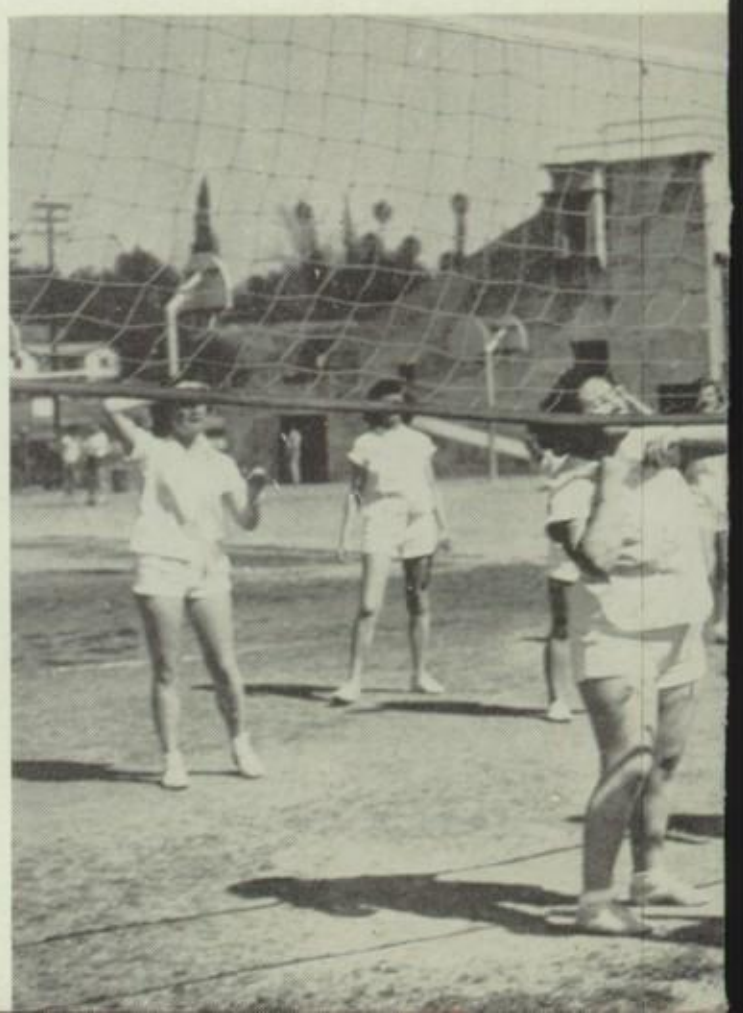
Due to a lack of space during the second and third quarters, the modern dance girls were forced to take up the sport of archery. After the first lesson the girls learned that the most important rule of archery was never to turn your back on a beginner. Then they began to enjoy acting like William Tell, in spite of those painful burns on their arms.

After endless Tuesday nights of practicing at the Y.W.C.A., amid waves of water caused by the semi-drowning of the girls, there emerged from it all an aquacade, well worth both the time and effort spent on it.

Skinned knees and bruised elbows (?) are typical of these hardy softball players as shown by Pat Peters as she skillfully beats the ball to first. Mary Lou Spitsnaugle catches the ball a second too late and Pat is safe as she slides into base.

A variety

Set it up to the front row! Only three hits to each side! Rotate! Net ball! The server takes it over. These familiar words are uttered by the volleyball players as they strive to get the ball over the net.



With a look of intense concentration on their faces, Barbara Halterman and Violet Heimstra concentrate on keeping the ball out of the gutter and in the alley. Bowling was only one of the many sports in which the members of the Girls' Recreational Association participated.

During the fall and spring seasons of the year, there can be glimpsed after school, white clad figures running madly around the tennis courts, taking advantage of the two serves, and slamming the little white tennis balls over the low-slung nets. This seasonal phenomenon can be attributed to the G.R.A. Tennis Club. Shirley Miller, one of those white-clad figures, practices diligently to improve her serve which has become rusty during the winter season.

Excitement ran high as the Poly Bears opened their football season by beating the tar out of the Huntington Beach Oilers, 14-9.

Men

Early in September, the football season began for the Poly Bears as they played one of their best games of the season against Huntington Beach with a neat 14-9 victory. The following week Poly came through with a 32-0 rout over Orange. Poly closed out its practice schedule as they lost to St. Anthony of Long Beach, 6-0.

Thus with a two-win, one-loss record the Bears moved into the C. B. L. race. The first league opponent was Pomona, which was one of the most exciting games during the season as the Red Devils were upset 19-13! But the next Friday the Bears were smacked 25-12 by the Chaffey Tigers. Hallowe'en night was one that Polyites would like to forget as San Bernardino walloped us 46-7! The Poly losing streak was extended to three games when the Redlands score was 20-0. Colton then moved into Riverside for the final game of the season. The Bears surprised one and all by upsetting the favored Yellow-Jackets 19-0!

A welcome addition to any game is a referee who cannot only referee well but who can also act as a part-time cheerleader. However, the referee above is simply calling a tie-ball, much to the amazement of the players. We lost this game 60 to 54 to Colton in a heartbreaking overtime period. The team played good clean-cut ball matched with dextrous ball handling up to the final buzzer, and only a quirk of fate kept us from winning this one.

Whack!

The Bear nine brought out spikes and bats to begin the season by edging the Redlands University Frosh 1-0. The first round of the C. B. L. went rather poorly with the Poly stickmen beating only Pomona and Redlands; but they fared better at the start of the second swing of the circuit by clipping Chaffey 6-3. Then came a day we would like to forget as Colton clobbered the Bears with a wicked 19-2.

He's safe! No, he's out! Rudy Godejohn goes into the air for the horsehide sphere as Jack Brown slides into base. We'll let you come to your own conclusion on the result.

Up above the world so high is marvelous Marvin Gove, another of Poly's swimming greats.

Poly-wogs

Beginning the season with high hopes for another C. B. L. championship, the Bears lost the swimming title by a scant few points. The season began with the aqua-bears beating San Bernardino and Palm Springs in a tri-city meet and nosing out Chaffey 46-20, then losing to Whittier and Redlands. In the C. I. F. Invitational Meet, Poly did themselves proud by taking third place.

Jack Kennedy captained the well-rounded team that brought home numerous points and medals as each member spared no effort to push the team standing to record heights.

Showing us how he did it is our C.B.L. champion—Tom Fox, who won first place in diving competition this spring.

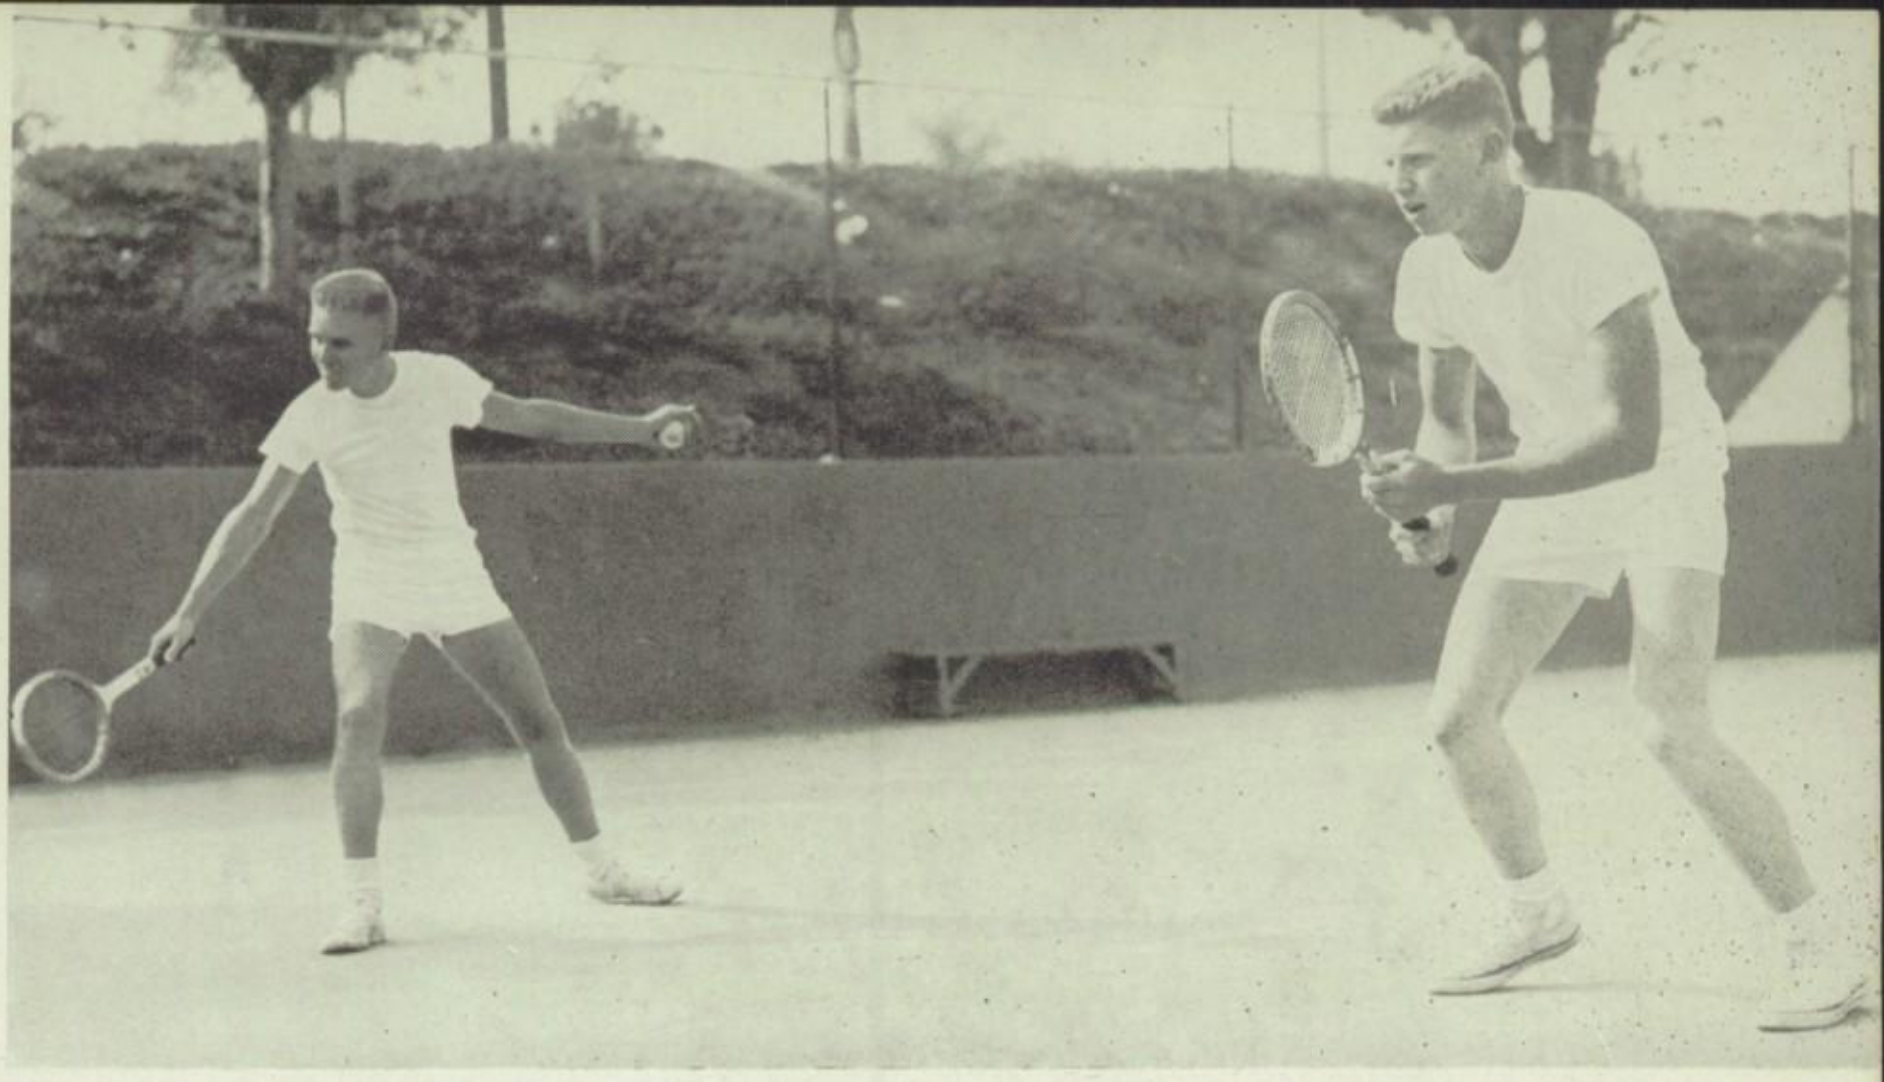
Slams, backhands,

It was understood that the tennis team had begun its practices when a swarm of shirtless figures were seen leaping about the ledges surrounding the tennis courts in search of lost balls. Seven returning lettermen made up the nucleus of the team which was coached by Bill Mitsch. The top singles men were Gordon Maloney, Larry Nelson, and Masami Kono. A duo of Gene Hughes and Dave Gamacho made up the "first doubles" team.



Plenty of action was seen up at the tennis courts this year where Sandy Russ and Dennis Timmons, members of Poly's tennis team, were busy slamming balls over the net.

The United States Government maintains at Poly a Junior Reserve Officers Training Unit known as the R.O.T.C. Uniforms and equipment are supplied by the government. During a three year period the cadets receive training in various fields: first aid, learning to operate and care for nine different weapons, precision drill, physical development, and learning military courtesy, military policy and teaching methods. Besides all this rigid training, the boys have several social events, one of which is the annual Military Ball.

The Mentors....

"Such a happy gathering! I wonder who they might be? Why it's a faculty party! I thought teachers were staid and reserved, but these look almost gay! Methinks I'll grace their happy hall with my presence and perchance find a small gift in my stocking."

...Mix!

"Yoicks! There's nothing here! Why, it looks so easy! Just reach in and pull out a present. Do you suppose that an education could show me how to do that? Maybe an apple plus a bit of polish could help me extract the secret from some well-educated member of the faculty

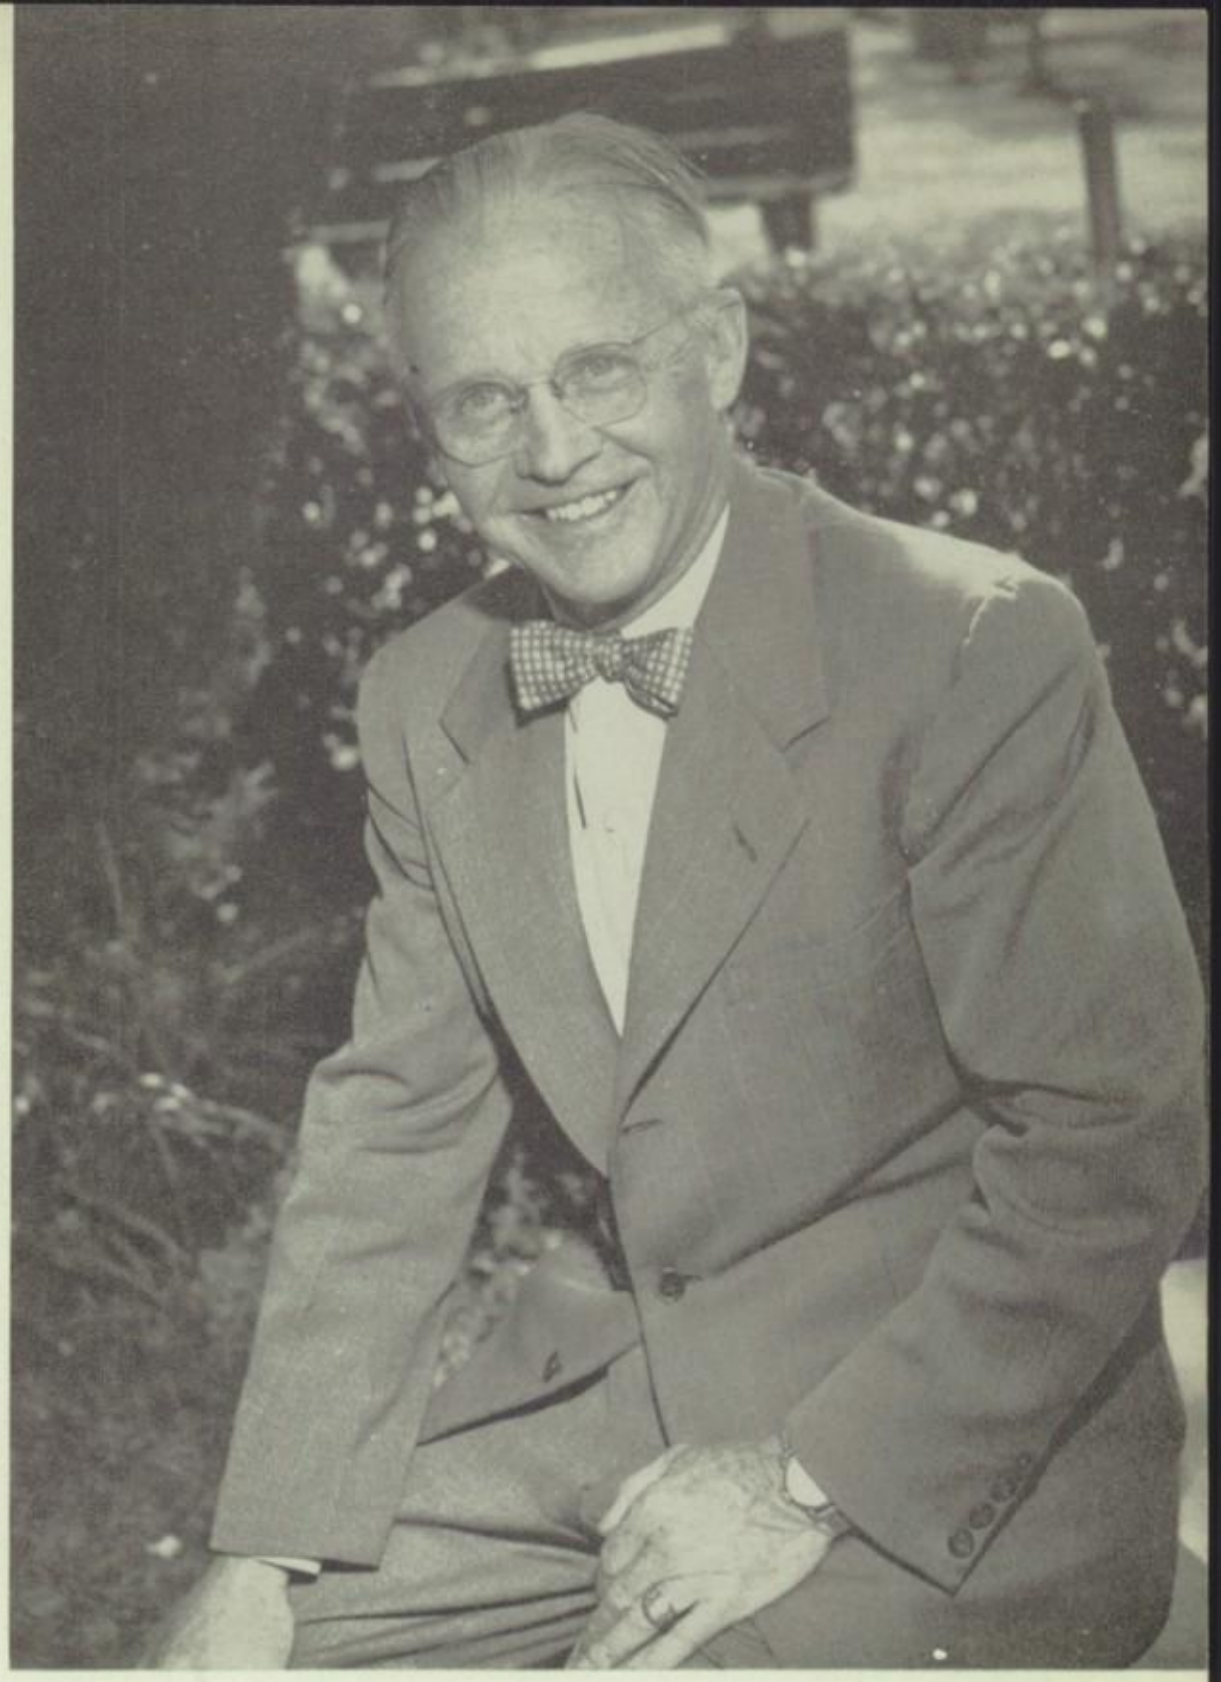
After only two years as Superintendent of Riverside's school system, Mr. Bruce Miller has achieved the distinction of becoming one of the most popular men, not only at Poly, but in all of Riverside. His first appearance at Poly was interrupted by a mud bath, during the Burbot initiation; but as soon as his suit was cleaned, he was back again doing all he could to help and to improve all things at Poly.

Rip meets our

Lending their invaluable assistance to the running of the Riverside City Schools is the very efficient Board of Education; Mr. R. B. Hampson, Mr. George Pooley, Mrs. Gladys T. Babcock, Mrs. Marie Bonnett, and Mr. Lewis P. Alabaster, president. Without their aid in solving the space shortage, Poly would not have had its two new buildings, the dance gym and the music and speech rooms.

Administrators



Mr. Fred L. McEuen, the ever smiling principal of Poly High, is always ready to lend a hand, whether it be in painting the Girls' League Lounge or arranging for buses to our out-of-town games. "Mac's" smile greeted us in the halls, on the campus, in his office, or almost anywhere we happened to be. Rip found, as he got to know "Mac" better, that Poly's genial principal had a big heart, a quick and ready wit to kid with all of us, and a spirit of friendliness that endeared him to all. For those shortened sixth periods, the pep rallies first period, the other numerous small privileges, and that wonderful Poly spirit, we the students, say, "Swell job, Mr. McEuen!"

Mrs. G. J. Tyler as president of the Poly P. T. A. kept the meetings in order and headed this organization to help promote many activities here in our behalf.

If you were one of the many boys caught cutting second period class for assembly, you possibly had the experience of a visit with Mr. George Wrentmore, Vice Principal.
But despite his unpleasant task of administering discipline and giving demerits, we all think he is top flight and as fine as they come. In addition to his many other responsibilities, he made possible our athletic schedule with the other C.B.L. schools and also directed the student body finances.

Dear Shirley
May the future bring many days filled with happiness
G. Wrentmore

The Mighty

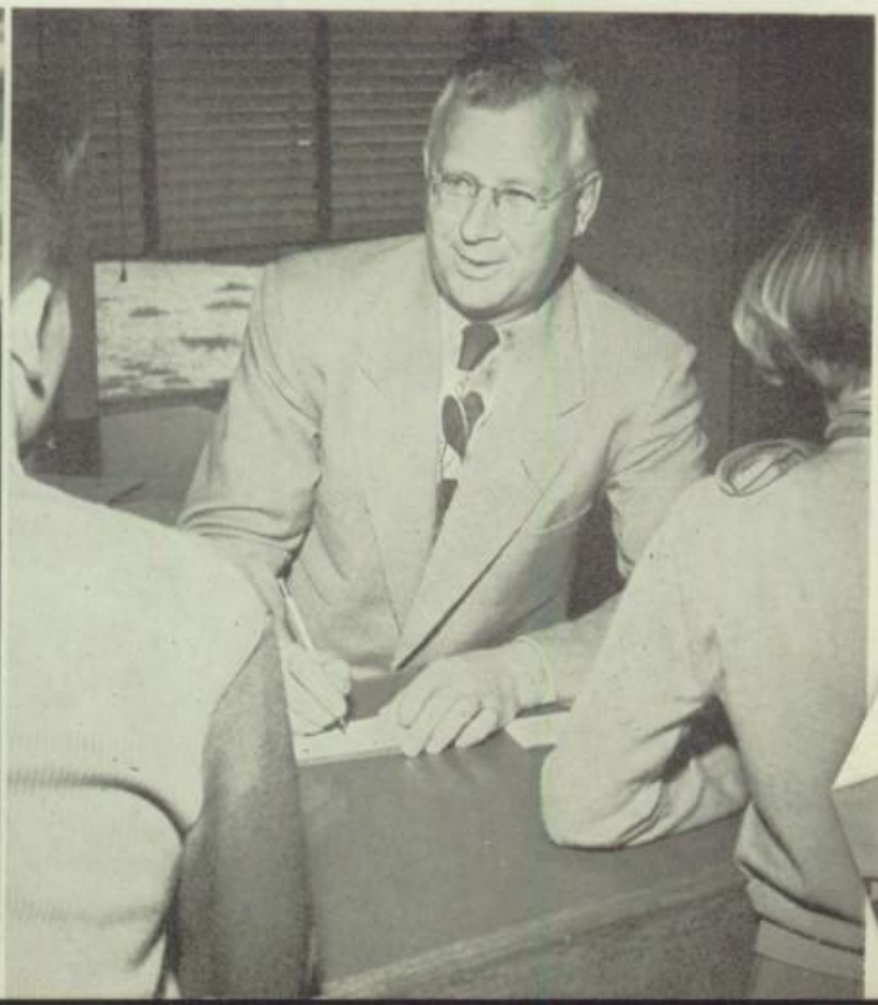
Patience, tact, kind understanding, and a sense of humor can all be found in Miss Jean Thayer, our Dean of Girls. Since she is always ready and willing to offer her expert advice for any problem that we send her way, it is no wonder that all of the girls at Poly are anxious to say "Thank you!" to a wonderful friend.

Here's one of the busiest people at Poly, Mrs. Caroline Roblee. Besides being head of the English Department and having two English classes, she is assistant Dean of Girls and a counselor. It certainly takes a person of immeasurable know-how to do so many jobs and do them all so well.

Vice Principal? Well, that's what some say; but then others say he's their driver education teacher. So maybe you may thus take your choice. But one thing we all know for certain is that he's a great guy — Mr. Edward C. Weir.

Tops on anybody's list is Mr. Robert Clyde whom everybody meets some time during the three years at Poly. As Guidance Director, he takes a real and personal interest in all our problems of deciding on colleges and careers and in generally encouraging us to pursue our chosen fields.

Distemper! That's a new one on us; but to Mr. Thorson, the Attendance Supervisor, it's just another of the hundreds of excuses (??) that come into his office every day.



Helping the undecided members of Poly's student body solve their problems of planning their programs and choosing careers was the job of these gifted people who were our counslors. Mr. Rupel, Mr. Kutch, Miss Schnee, Mrs. Mulkey, Mrs. Roblee, Miss Rickard, Mr. Casey, and Mr. Clyde.

Here was efficiency!

Keeping the records straight and untangling the red tape that always seems to come up even in Poly's efficiently run office are the secretaries, easily worth their weight in gold. Row 1: Mrs. K. Jones, Mrs. A. Brainard. Row 2: Mrs. H. Godon, Mrs. B. Hodge.

Looking up those "evasive" catalogues for the students who were planning to attend college, was one of the numerous jobs performed by Mrs. E. Ober, Mr. Clyde's secretary. Keeping track of the "evasive" students who weren't even planning to attend Poly was the job of Mr. Thorson's attendance secretaries, Mrs. V. Searle and Mrs. R. McIntyre.

Whatever would we have done without Mrs. Lamb's assistance in looking up all those special books that we had to have for term papers and extra reports! With a library filled with 13,500 books, it was certainly wonderful having a librarian who took such a special interest in all our reading. Along with Rita Larsen the students at Poly say "thanks" for the help rendered in our behalf.

Poly students can enjoy the facilities of the Library where there are many books for both pleasure reading and reference.

Oh, that worried look expressed on the faces of these students as they await their dental inspection by Dr. Frazier! Helyn Gilkeson, our ... ful school nurse, ... help whoever n... the doctor or t...

'Mrs. Roblee, Miss Henry, Mr. Haering, and Mrs. Wybourn are just four of Poly's popular English teachers, who helped us to learn anything from nouns and verbs to the poetry of Bret Harte.

From Shakespeare

Mr. William Bell III strikes a pose of individual dignity (as usual) as he listens to his associates tell of the day's happenings in their various English classes. Miss McKeever must have had a whopper. Seated are Miss McMartin, Mrs. Brauti, Miss McKeever. Standing: Mrs. Patterson and Mr. Bell.

Mr. Scantlebury, to the amusement of his fellow English teachers, Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. Hartwell, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Fletcher, and Mr. Ferris Bell, recites Shakespeare the way it should be done(?)

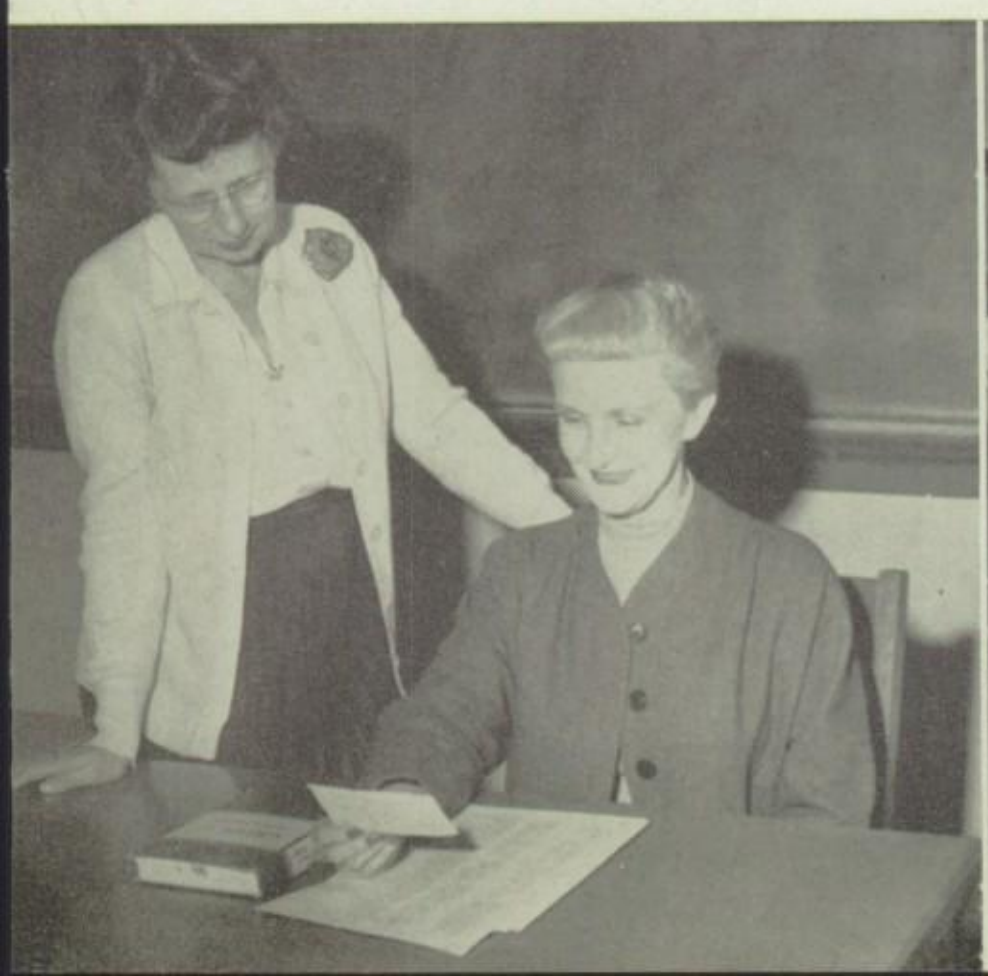
to shorthand

Certificate tests, speed dictation, transcriptions— No, shorthand isn't exactly a foreign language, but almost. Miss Schnee and Miss Elliott strove to teach us its mysteries, all for that small card saying that we passed the 120 and could take commercial speed dictation.



From the smile on Edward Davison's face, Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Ferrall have convinced him that punching A, S, D, F, isn't as hard as it's keyed up to be.

Mr. Adams assures his fellow social studies colleagues, Mr. Erwin, Mr. Smith, and Mr. James, that Columbus' theory is still correct and, despite Atom Bombs and "H" Bombs, the world is still round.

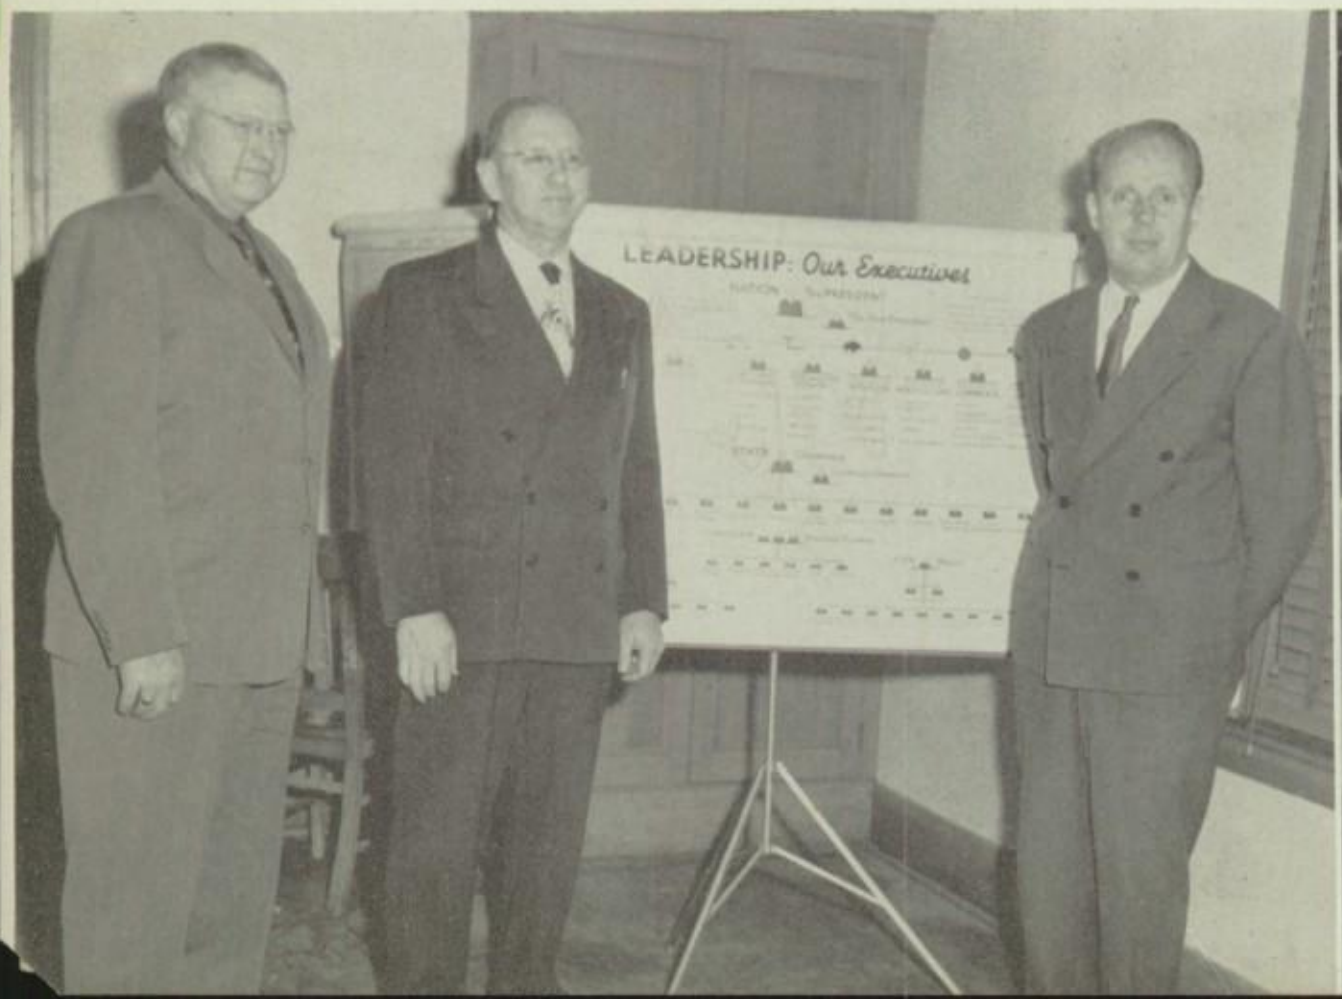
Miss Rickard, Gerry Gilligan, and Georgia Manners read one of the many informative articles on early Southwestern Indian civilization from a magazine in their world history class.

Good luck to you R J Hadwiger

Rip discovered a round world,

Putting the idea of state and local government into the heads of the seniors was the job of these American Institutions teachers Mr. Kutch, Mr. Hadwiger, and Mr. Sevaly.

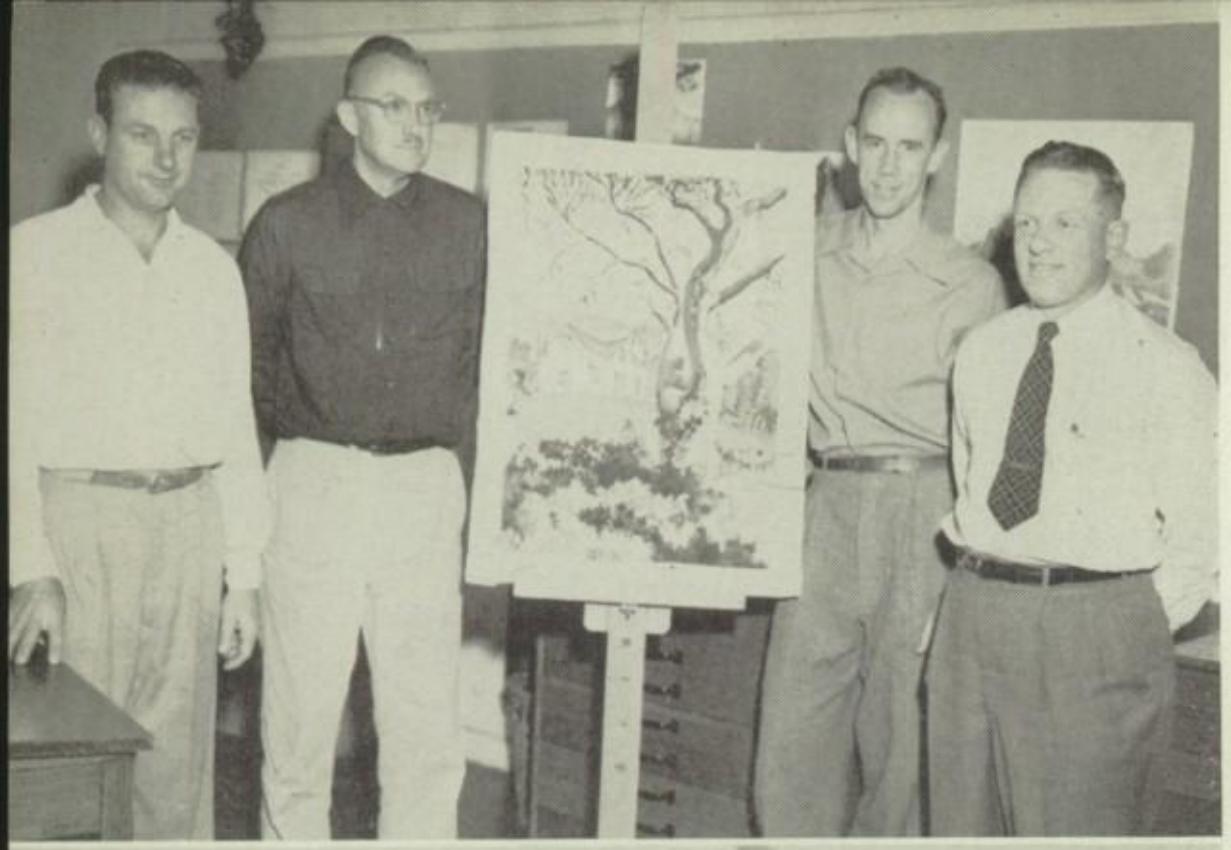
Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Mulkey taught us the ups and downs of our personalities in Sociology. (We can blame it all on those crazy little chromosomes!)



Under the watchful eyes of Mr. Harper and Mrs. Blakesley, Bill Pelham looks at parts of his dissected frog under the microscope while Betty Carder stands as far away as possible.

and the moon, too.

Mr. Cooper and Mr. Barto, chemistry and physics teachers, demonstrate the use of various weather instruments to Lois Ritz and Dennis Weeks, who still believe that "grandma's corn" is accurate enough for Riverside.



Mr. Bush, Mr. Stoever, Mr. Butterfield, and Mr. Shepard proudly display some of the prizewinning work done in their art classes.

Not all of us were fortunate enough to be born with artistic talent as Lissa Gurney, Harry Albrecht, and Richard Warber were, and they were certainly lucky to have received all the help and encouragement given in the art department.

From

Mr. List, Mrs. Yarbrough, Miss Schulze, and Mr. Booth, los profesores del espanol, proudly display one of the many awards won by the Latin American Club for their various activities in school.

Miss Finley and Miss Gilbert patiently endeavored to teach us how to conjugate and decline those evasive little Latin words.

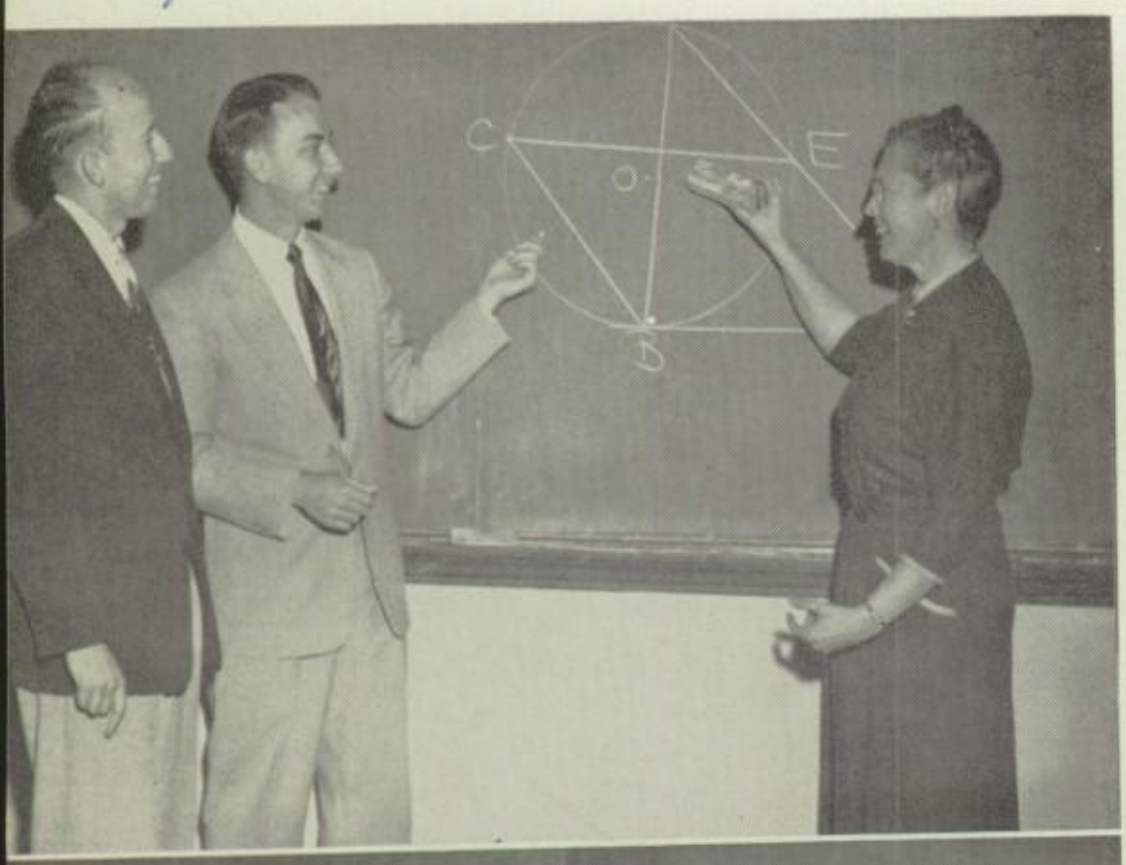
L. Burnett, Y. Ricketts, D. Streeter, G. Manners, F. Smith, J. Caskey, and A. Davis, enjoy a meal cooked in their foods classes and get caught up on the day's happenings.

artichokes to zippers

Lost bobbins, wrong color thread, and a sewing machine "that just won't work" are some of the many stories heard by Miss Coleman and Mrs. Zehnpfenig in their various sewing classes. Rachel Corona finally found that bobbin in time to get that "A" grade on her blouse.

Miss Schouler, Miss Lindsay, Miss Proctor, and Miss Obst take time out for a cup of tea and show us that they can practice what they preach in their homemaking classes.

"I just can't seem to understand it," says Anne Suverkrup to Mr. Eckel, Mr. Duncan, and Mr. Casey who by now are quite used to these familiar words always heard in their math classes.



he

Teaching us how to "square the circle" was the job undertaken by Mr. Dixon, Mr. Bigbee, and Miss Thorsen, math teachers.

Math is no easy subject to teach and even harder to understand, but with math teachers like Mr. Rupel, Mr. Deeter, and Mrs. Rush, square roots, ratios, and polygons become more easily understood.

Duane Hinshaw (looking as if he could do better) and Coke Meier are interested spectators as Mr. MacCuish, with the help of Mr. Raymer and Sherrie Harris' eager participation (?), demonstrates the art of acting (?) as taught in their drama classes.

Claudia Sedgwick and Richard Hendry may look like angels but don't let them fool you! They just want good grades from the music teachers, Mr. Derick and Mr. Whitaker.

Mrs. Emerson, Miss Burke, Mrs. Wellborn, Mrs. Barton, and Mrs. Sharp, girls' physical education teachers, get together to discuss those problem hockey rules that are so hard for us of the younger generation to understand.

From the tennis courts to the swimming pool and from the track to the baseball diamond came the coaches for this picture. They are: Coaches Mumma, Mitsch, Steele, Steponovich, Halle, Hallock, Rife, and Hammerschmidt.

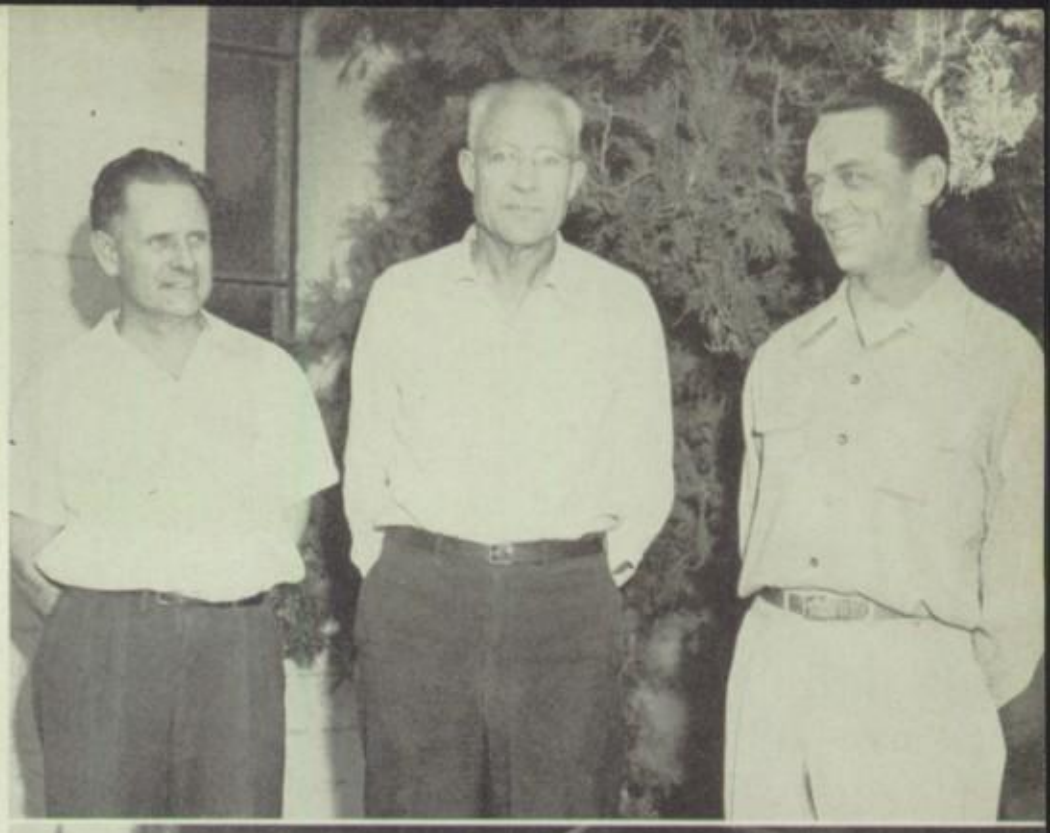
Hats off to Mr. Epp and the boys in the print shop who printed the SPOTLIGHT, the play and dance programs, and even those demerit slips! Here Mr. Epp is helping Pete Elliott set the type for those indispensable little guides, the "Bear Facts" for 1953-54.

Taking their lives in their hands by teaching the sophomores how to drive were these brave driver education teachers: Mr. Eynon, Mr. Probst, Mr. Heath, and Mr. Martin. Thank goodness the cars have dual controls!

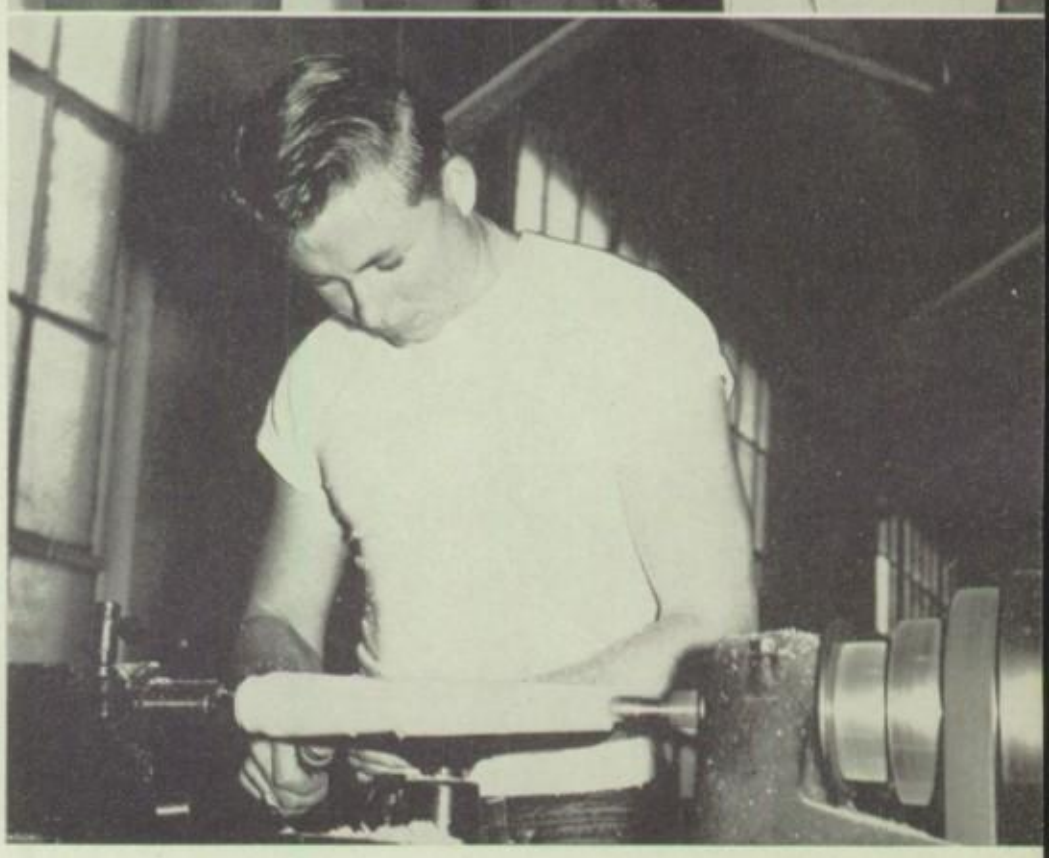
Rip talked cars

Trying to line up those little cars isn't as easy as it looks, as Joe Arcieniega knows. If you can't do it, though, don't be worried. It's only a depth perception test and a part of the driver education course.

Taking time out from the sound of lathes and roaring pipes (on cars that is) for this Koala picture are: Mr. Hicks, Mr. Carlson, and Mr. Prikett.



And how does your garden grow? The boys in agriculture courses had little trouble in making theirs grow with all those new ideas that Mr. Frost taught them in "Ag" shop.



and Shop.

Mr. Luthy gives some expert advice to Bob Searle on the fine art of scale drawing in his mechanical drawing class.

"How much wood can a wood shop chop?" asks Bob Babcock. Ask any woodshop student and he'll tell you that "chopping" a chair leg out of a block of wood is no easy task.

There's no sleeping in the shops where Mr. DuBois, Mr. Ingersoll, and Mr. Mosher dwell. Not with buzz saws, lathes, grinders, and arc welders going all day.

This is our city, neither big nor small, but a thriving community in a pleasant setting where living is peaceful. The people who live here are average Americans who believe in democracy. They're giving us a heritage of freedom. To these friendly people who strive to keep our world free so that we may go to whatever church we wish, vote in our own way, speak out against those things we feel are wrong, and go to school where we wish, we say "Thanks a million! We'll never forget you."

For quality clothes in styles you enjoy at prices you can afford, do as Claudia Sedgwick and Dean Determan do. Shop at ROUSE'S, 3834 Main St., for the best in town.

Ann Julie Rikhof looks very much pleased with the suit she has chosen from Grayson's complete line of wearing apparel. She knows that no matter what the occasion is, Grayson's, 3727 Main St., has the appropriate outfit.

Denny Eubanks tries out a new Philco TV set while Freddy Farr looks wonderingly at the maze of wires and buttons in the back of the cabinet. For that new television set or radio be sure to see the fine selection at the Radio Equipment Company, 3996 Main St.

With graduation almost here, Joe Patterson knows that Sweet's clothing for men at 3789 Main Street is the best place to go for that new suit. Carolyn Kjolseth heartily approves of Joe's selection from the fine stock of men's suits at Sweet's.

Tahlie Edmonds gets some able assistance from Jim Giddings while Ann Suverkrup watches. This sunny scene was taken at LaGranada Swim Park, 10366 Wells Avenue, where fun in the sun is guaranteed.

All this beauty overwhelms us, a pretty girl and beautiful TV set, too! Although the model, Pat Donnaud, doesn't come with the set, a set itself is well worth the consideration of anyone interested in television. Mission Radio and TV Shop, 5472 Mission Blvd., not only sells TV sets and radios but repairs them, guaranteeing their excellent work.

All set for that "big date" is Patty Jenkins with a new hair-do from Clark's Beauty Salon, 3758 Eighth St.

Rose Alessio and June Thomas enjoy a tasty snack after strenuous shopping trip, at Carmen's Cafe, 9426 Magnol Ave., Arlington.

One of the most beautiful drive-in theaters in Southern California can be found right here in Riverside. With its modern snack bar and playground for the kiddies, the RUBIDOUX DRIVE-IN THEATER, Mission and Opal Streets, West Riverside, furnishes the best in movie entertainment.

Richard Hendry knows that for that "special date" a special corsage is always welcomed. And for that special corsage, Donnell's Florist Shop, 3697 Main St., is the place to go.

Ronnie Pritchard and Bill Cooper agree that for those screwdrivers, wrenches, hammers, and other perplexing items known as tools (which constantly bewilder the female half of the species), Corbin's Tool Shop, 3589 Main St., supplies helpful and courteous advice along with the tools.

Norma Ross is proving to Barbara Archer that Banks Drug Company, 3698 Main St., is the best place to go for those "always necessary" cosmetics.

"Just look at all the advantages of this new, gleaming white O'Keefe and Merritt gas range," says Joan Anderson. "The Arlington Furniture Store, 9507 Magnolia Avenue, is certainly the place to go for any new household appliances, furniture, rugs or TV sets that you might need."

Camilla Baugh knows that her sweater will come back beautifully cleaned and not all stretched out, for she's learned from experience that El Rancho Cleaners, 5589 Mission Blvd., does quality work at low prices. Mrs. Pearl Wade is only one of the staff ready to help you with any cleaning problems you might have.

It looks as though Russell Chamberlain is trying to sell Bill Noble one of the many fine brands of paint from Magnolia Paint Center, 6545 Magnolia Ave. "It's a good buy, Bill. And if you need any other painting supplies Magnolia Paint Center has them all."

"Slide over and let me in, too," says Dixie Hogan to Shirley Woods. "It's not fair to keep all that smooth Pontiac styling and riding comfort to yourself". Don Gilmore, 3390 Eighth St., is the man to see for those fine Pontiac cars.

Eben Waggaman relaxes in the cheerful surroundings of a room furnished by Bell's Maple Shop, 6690 Brockton Ave., as Barbara Moe completes the scene.

Cheney's Music House, 3931 Main St., can always provide you with the best in records, sheet music, radios, phonographs, TV sets and musical instruments.

Harry's Drive-In, 6490 Magnolia Ave., is the home of such "heavenly" Hamburgers that people beat a path to its door. The refreshing sodas, thick malts, and delicious shoestring potatoes, plus all their other good food, make eating at Harry's a pleasure.

Doing a little wishful thinking is David Wood, not that we blame him. The beautiful Westinghouse TV set is only one of the many on display at the Glenn Radio Shop, 6655 Magnolia Ave. They sell TV sets and radios and service all makes and models.

Ailene White and Pat Chapman may disagree on the type of bandages to use, but they both agree that Bowser and Banks Prescription Pharmacy, 3760 Twelfth St., is the best place to go for medical supplies and prescriptions.

"Look! Isn't this lamp pretty!" exclaims Sara Warner. "Yes, but see what I found," answers Luanne Lewis. Pictured are only a few of the many treasures to be found at the Import Shop, 6655 Magnolia Ave.

"Careful! Don't break that plate!" exclaims Pat Dales as she hands it to Marvin Morrison to put in his place at the head of the table. Beautiful china arranged on a lovely table and beautiful furniture in a charming setting provide for a wonderful evening. For furniture that is both pleasing to the eye and serviceable it's WESTBROOK'S, 3750 Main Street.

Noralee Koldewyn, Judy Morgan, and Betty Clark are all set for summer vacation in their trim sports outfits from Carpenter's Department Store, 9477 Magnolia Ave., Arlington.

No matter how hard Marilyn Wells and Sally Fifer pull, that big door just won't come open because the Citizens National Bank, 3800 Main Street, is made strong structurally and financially to keep your money safe from bandits like these two.

Myrdeen Williamson and Don Herman look over the window display at Green and Christensen Jewelers, 4041 Main St. What is in the window, pretty as it is, is only a small part of the wonderful selection of jewelry and gifts to be found inside

"Yoiks! Home was never like this!" Rip would exclaim. "I used orange crates for my furniture, but this furniture from Huffman's, 3498 Eighth St., will be in style 20 years from now." Joan Hodges and Don Woodruff are really lucky to be able to get such wonderful bargains nowadays.

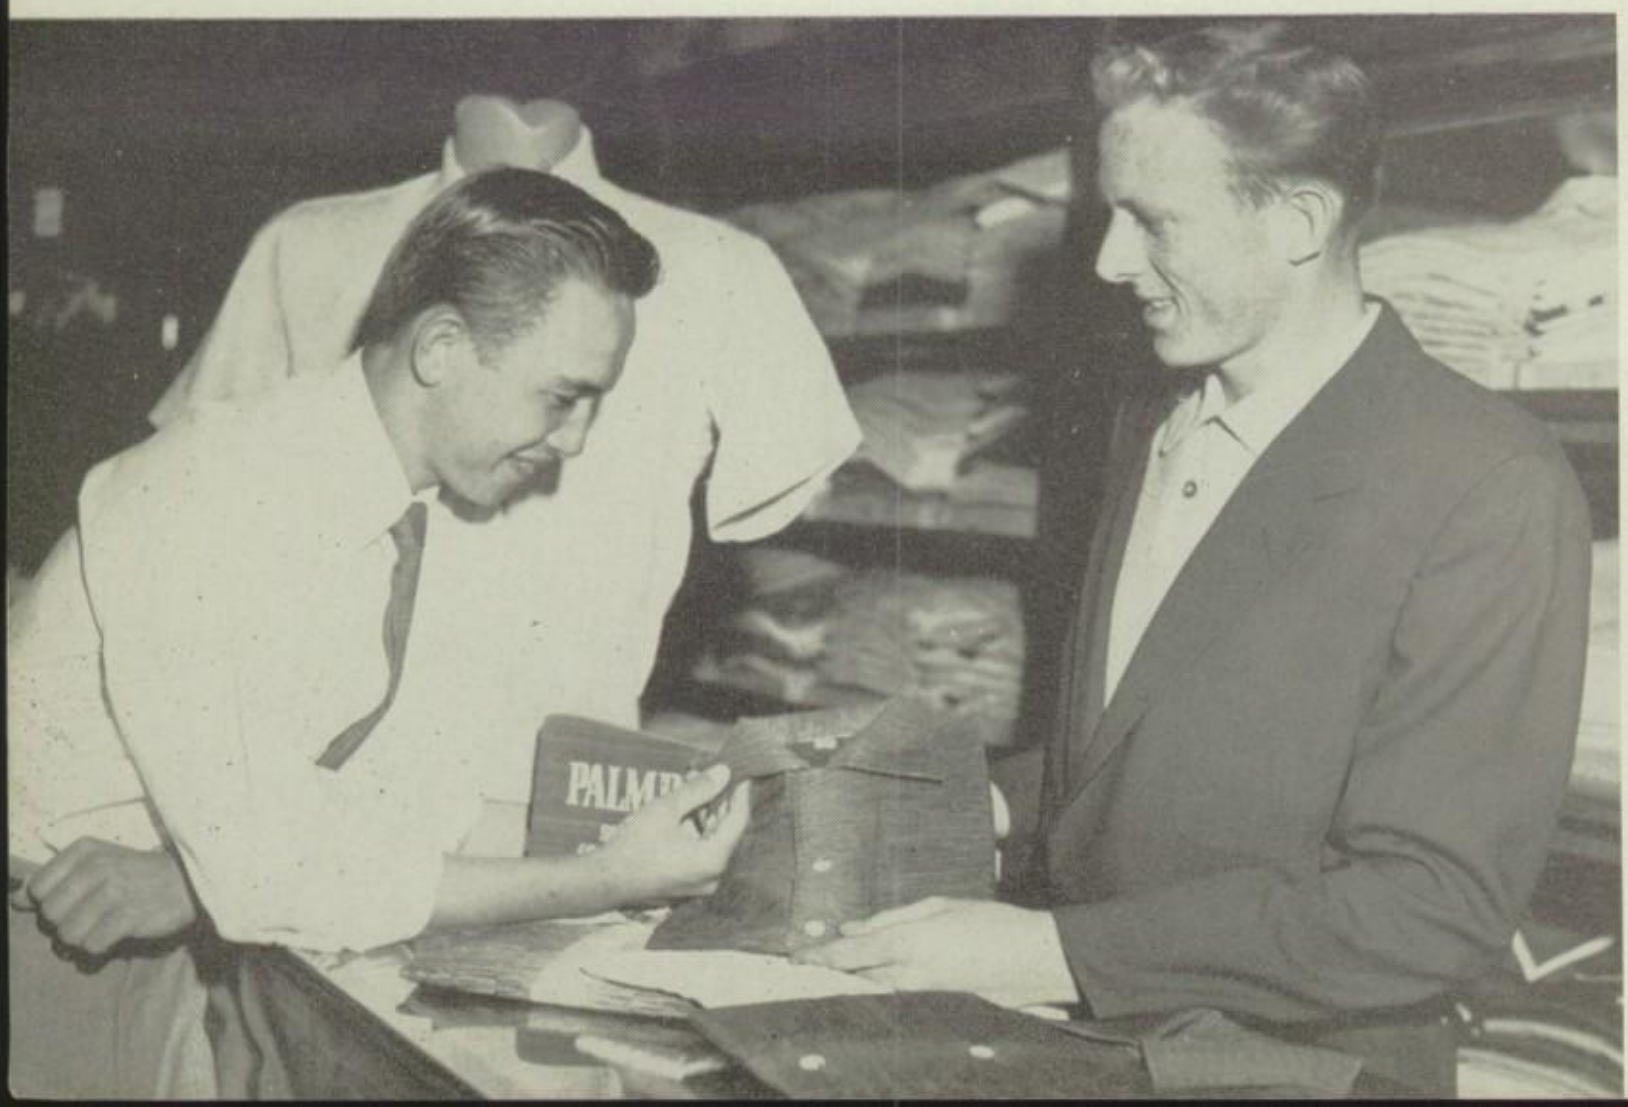
The popularity of Tuxie's Drive-In at Jurupa and Magnolia Ave., can be clearly seen here with the number of Poly students buying those delicious hamburgers, thick malts, and spicy chilli-dogs.



"Yes sir! That's just what I want, and I won't have to empty my wallet either," declares Chuck Kovely to Don Henson. "From now on it's McGrath and Olson, 3369 Main Street, for me with its fine selection of clothes for men."

Judy Ford and Joyce Engel know that for the latest style in bathing suits, Kristy's, 3961 Main St., is the place to go. Kristy's also carries a complete line of women's clothing.

"Do you want to watch wrestling or the fashion show?" Jerry Barto asks Janice Tuttle in a rare mood of indulgence, as they prepare to try out one of those beautiful TV sets from Buchanan's TV Shop, 3654 Main St. Buchanan's carries the best and services the rest.

Bill Pelham looks over his suit for graduation, remembering that it costs so little to look your best when you have your clothes cleaned at at Palace Cleaners, 3420 Main St.

Enjoying that bit of afterschool relaxation are Ellen Stainbrook, Marguerite Doss, Diane Myers, and Mimi Neault. They know that the delicious food Kustner's serve will always help to erase the cares of school. They know, too, that for that new tube of lipstick or any other cosmetic, Kustner's Pharmacy, 3815 Main St., carries a complete line.

Clothes made to relax in are these comfortable casuals from Leonard's, 3775 Main St. Cheryl Eide and Donna Jay know from experience that Leonard's is tops in style selection and budget prices.

The happy smiles on the faces of Bill DeWolfe and Susan Keil reflect the smooth styling and comfort of a room furnished by the Mission Furniture Store, 3615 Main Street.

And as we leave Rip, we can see that he's not taking any chances of falling asleep again. He has by now realized what he has missed at Poly during his last forty snoring years; and, since there's no telling what may happen in the years to come, Rip intends to stay wide awake and alert to all developments.

What's that you say, Rip? Oh, you want to express your appreciation to:

Dear Shirley,
You're one of the sweetest girls I know. I certainly glad I was able to make you better at dance. Best of luck.
Love, St. Clair
